COUNCIL SURVIVES RECESSION WITH INCREASED BALANCES

LYME Regis Town Council has come through the recession with its finances in a strong position.

In a report on a budgeting strategy for the financial year 2011-2012, town clerk Mike Lewis reveals that in the council's published accounts for the past three years expenditure has risen by only 2.6 per cent whilst income has gone up 24 per cent.

As a result of prudent housekeeping and the maximisation of income, the council's balances at the start of the current financial year were up 38.5 per cent higher than three years ago.

These figures should go a long way to convincing Lyme Regis council taxpayers that the town's finances are in a very robust position.

Further positive news for residents is the view of the town clerk that it would be "politically expedient" that there should be a nil increase in the local precept next year (the amount of money levied to run the council that helps to make up the overall council tax).

No complacency

Mr Lewis stresses in his report that the council's "binding commitment" to the regeneration of the Marine Parade shelters will take precedence during the greater portion of this financial year and for the first quarter of the next.

"There will certainly be other small and medium sized capital projects but nothing of this magnitude for the foreseeable future," he said.

Mr Lewis makes it clear that the council cannot afford to be complacent and the policy of maximising revenue through its commercial assets will be kept under review to "underwrite the standard of services provided for residents and visitors".

With certain quarters of the local economy under pressure, the council came in for strong criticism when they implemented a heavy increase in rents for their seafront rents.

The town clerk is clearly aware of the balance which has to be achieved in maximising council assets and not fixing prohibitive rents when he writes: "There is a judgement to be made, at times with the benefit of professional advice, as to the timing of increases in

Theatre boost for youth club

THE Marine Theatre gave Lyme Regis Club for Young People a £510 boost this week.

The theatre hosted Radio Two DJ's Mark Radcliffe and Stuart Maconie last week for a live broadcast of their evening show.

Guests were asked to make a £10 donation for their tickets and the money collected was handed over to Marcus Dixon, Chief Executive of Lyme Regis Development Trust, this week. Newly appointed creative director of the Marine theatre, Phil Whitehead, made the donation to Mr Dixon, who is co-ordinating a project to renovate and refurbish the town's former boy's club.

JAMES Ward-Rice, 38, moved to Bridport in June to take up his post as an area youth worker for Dorset County Council.

James began his youth work in Hastings, working on a substance misuse project, before spending 10 years working for Nottingham City Youth Service, where he was once Service Manager.

James was attracted to Dorset after holidaying in the county, where he fell in love with the walks around Golden Cap and North Chideock. James now lives in Bridport with his wife Susan and their two dogs Eddie and Mac.

■ WHAT were your first impressions of the town when you arrived?

Clean, sunny, fresh air and lots of things to do. A bustling market, good food and people who looked happy.

■ HOW does working for the youth service in Bridport differ to Nottingham?

There are more similarities than there are differences. I think that young people's needs are consistent across the country at the moment. There are a lot of stresses and strains for young people growing up, more now than there certainly have been in previous years, and I think life is far more complex. There is a lot of pressure to grow up very quickly, to have a job and to do well at school, to get a mortgage. One major difference I find in Bridport is the gap between the wage and being able to buy your first house. The gap is massive, if not pretty much non-achievable. It's a major issue for the south-west if they don't want young people moving away.

■ ARE there a lot of options for young people in the area?

Bridport is very blessed in terms of options for young people to volunteer, be creative, or to take part in sport. However not all of those things will eventually pay the way. There are a lot of beautiful things here but they may not be essentially what young people need at that time.

■ WHY did you choose to work with young people rather than adults?

It just so happened that there was an option to do street work, which was focused around young people. I really enjoyed the street work and the work with young people, it had a really good energy about it. It didn't seem like a job at the time, it was too good to be true. To be paid for something you enjoy doing.

■ WHAT is the best part of your job?

It's a cliché, but working with young people. Getting to know the things they find important and giving them a voice in the centre. One thing we have been trying to do over the past couple of months is getting young people more involved in the centre so that they have a voice, they are starting to run the coffee bar and café for example.

■ WHAT plans have you got ahead?

I'd like to build on some of the good work that Arthur Woodgate has put in place. I think the best way of doing that is to get the doors open in the centre slightly more, in terms of the evening youth work, and also to develop the building so it's a more comfortable, safe, warm welcoming environment. I want to put on some of things that young people want to do at the moment. So far people have told us they are really interested in games and maybe a potential cinema here. A projector screen to play playstation competitions. I'd like to get better use of the sports hall as well, we need to do some fundraising for better sports equipment so that we can introduce things like short tennis as well as football and basketball.

■ IS there anything you did back in Nottingham that you'd like to introduce here?

We used to have health drop-ins and we would get health professionals to come in and talk to young people about health issues in their lives. That could range from diet, nutrition and just generally keeping fit to smoking, substance misuse and sex and relationship education as well.

■ WHAT was the last book you read, film you watched and CD you listened to?

The last CD was Carl Craig, the sound of music, the record label for that is 69. I'm currently reading a Paul Theroux book called The Old Patagonian Express. He catches the morning commuter train down to South America. He catches everybody's morning train, so that he can see people going to work, it's a very interesting read. The last film was The Hurt Locker, I enjoyed it actually, sombre but very well put together.

■ WHAT'S the best place you've visited and where would you still like to go?

I liked the South Pacific, the islands there like the Cook Islands, Tahiti, Fiji are really beautiful. The place I'd still like to visit is Tibet. It would be a totally different landscape and culture and I'm really interested in that.

Lifesaver from Down Under visits Lyme lifeboat station

TWO young lifesavers from opposite ends of the world met at Lyme Regis RNLI lifeboat station at the weekend to compare notes.

Callum Good, 14, was visiting the town with his parents from their home near Sydney, Australia.

Callum is Junior Lifesaver of the Year in the Sydney area where there are 30 lifesaving clubs including one that covers the famous Bondi Beach.

Waiting to meet Callum for a pre-planned visit to the Lyme Regis lifeboat station was 18 year old Ritchie Durrant, who until recently was the youngest seagoing crew member with the lifeboat.

Callum is a member of the Marouba Lifesaving Club, which he described as "four beaches away from Bondi".

He is also a volunteer as a helper with the Westpac rescue helicopter based near Botany Bay.

Ritchie and Callum exchanged gifts before Callum and dad Julian were given an extensive tour of the Lyme Regis lifeboat station by Lifeboat Operations Manager Rob Fossett and Deputy Launching Authority Phil Ball.

Callum said: "I just could not come to the UK without visiting the RNLI. It was very interesting to compare notes on lifesaving issues and to learn so much about your lifeboat service."

Rob Fossett said: "The RNLI's lifeguard service is based on the Australian system, so this has been a very useful experience for all of us."

Callum and his family have been staying in Lyme Regis for part of their visit, during which they also celebrated the 80th birthday of Callum's grandmother Anne.

Palmers stick to view over hotel option

By Philip Evans

PALMERS Brewery, owners of the Three Cups in Lyme Regis are adamant that the Grade Two listed building in Broad Street will not reopen as an hotel.

In a letter to John Dover, chairman of the Save The Three Cups As A Hotel Group, Palmers chairman and managing director John Palmer re-emphasised that two independent reports have confirmed that it would not be viable for the Three Cups to become an hotel again.

Mr Dover wrote to Mr Palmer inviting him to the group's next public meeting to be held at the Woodmead Halls on Friday, October 22nd (starting at 7pm).

Mr Dover said the objectives of the evening were to review the progress made since the last public meeting in October 2009, to look forward to the next steps to be achieved in the light of Palmers' recent public consultation day and to ensure that the people of Lyme were fully informed.

Mr Dover invited Mr Palmer to address the meeting. Mr Palmer replied that he thought his presence would be "a distraction from the main tasks in hand".

Mr Palmer has written to Mr Dover stating: "Palmers clearly set out its views and plans at the consultation day and these were well summarised in the local Press. We are continuing our meetings with councillors, planners and other relevant bodies and will be holding a second consultation day in a few months."

Mr Palmer went on to "correct" a statement made by Mr Dover in the press that "the two reports (into the viability of converting the building back into an hotel) did not prove that returning the Three Cups to its former glory is not viable."

Said Mr Palmer: "This is simply not true. Both reports concluded unambiguously that it would be unviable to reopen the building as an hotel, having considered several conversion options."

"The initial report was conducted by hotel specialists TRI Consulting who reviewed the issues independently in the light of their wide knowledge of the hotel sector."

"The TRI report was scrutinised for West Dorset District Council by Goadsby's who agreed with its main conclusions."

"Palmers, therefore, have no option but to look for alternative uses for the building and the site that benefit Lyme Regis. Any development will require a substantial, long-term investment. As a long established and respected company, Palmers wish to work with local people to provide the most viable and sustainable future for the site."

"Sadly, that cannot be an hotel, but we are aware of Lyme's need for more short-stay accommodation and our proposal to include letting rooms on site met with an enthusiastic response at the consultation day."

Council finances in good shape

rents and charges according to local and national factors in order not to damage this vital income stream."

Mr Lewis also refers to the potential to "generate substantially more revenue from several prime areas", including the Monmouth Beach and Marine Parade; the first depending on the outcome of discussions with West Dorset District Council regarding the expiry in March 2012 of the lease of the 240 space combined parking areas; similarly the ongoing review of charges and rents for chalets, caravan and beach hut owners.

Additional revenue will also come through the commercial exploitation of the publicly maintained seafront which will be regulated through the Tripartite Agreement with WDDC and Dorset County Council which should be signed this autumn. In other words, those seafront traders who put tables and chairs out on the Marine Parade will be expected to pay for them, as happens at The Cobb.

Dealing with specifics, Mr Lewis makes reference to the letting of the commercial units planned for the new-look shelters which will fund the £500,000 loan from West Dorset District Council.

He acknowledges the risk of not finding tenants in the current economic climate but points out that one formal business proposition has been received and a second expression of interest from a national organisation.

Mr Lewis says the council, through its prudence is still able to support local organisations via the grant process as well as responding to exceptional requests.

He said it should be possible for the council to make a major contribution of £50,000 to the project to purchase and renovate the young people's club in Church Street as well as an annual grant of £10,000 a year towards running costs.

The town clerk also identified other areas where the council should consider giving support, including:

- ◆ Extending the service agreement with the Lyme Community Arts Trust whereby the Marine Theatre will receive £32,000 for a further two years
- ◆ To redirect £70,000 set aside for new toilets in the Lister Gardens to the Ware Cliff priority project

- ◆ To budget £10,000 towards the role of the Lyme Area Partnership co-ordinator on a three-year contract

- ◆ To budget for improvements to the mini-golf in Lister Gardens

- ◆ To budget for major, possibly phased, improvements to the stabilisation and access at Ware Cliff

- ◆ To continue to contribute to a fund to replace the Marine Parade railings.

Mr Lewis's strategy report was adopted at the council's Strategy and Policy Committee September meeting for preparation of the 2011/2012 detailed budget.

Primary pupils go French for the day

PRIMARY school pupils in Lyme Regis have been brushing up on their French skills with the help of some Parisian students.

French exchange students, who have been staying with pupils from the Woodroffe school, visited St Michael's Primary School for the day.

As well as working on their conversation skills, with the help of teacher Isabelle Sturtridge, the primary school pupils were also celebrating everything French.

Pupils dressed in blue, white and red, made French flags and dolls as well as learning traditional songs.

Pupils from Woodroffe School will visit France in the Spring, where they will stay with their new Parisian pals.

Dirty toilets: only one complaint

by Philip Evans

DESPITE the furore over the state of the town council-run toilets on the Marine Parade, only one official complaint was received, Lyme Regis councillors have been told.

The state of the toilets was raised at a meeting of the Operational Management Sub-Committee by Councillor Sally Holman. She said the issue had been raised at the recent PACT meeting but she was surprised to learn that only one complaint had been made.

Councillor Holman was instrumental in getting the district council toilets at the Cobb closed for emergency cleaning during the summer when raw sewage was running out into the road and across the slipway.

Also, there have been several letters to the View from Lyme Regis from visitors about the filthy state of the toilets (see page 9).

Administrative officer Vicki Stickler confirmed only one official complaint had been received by there were a number of other complaints by heresay.

Councillor Holman said they should make it clear to the public that if they had a complaint they should lodge it with the town council.

The state of the Marine Parade toilets and their mode of operation were commented on in a letter from Lyme Regis Regatta and Carnival Committee.

Deputy town clerk Simon Ratcliff is currently investigating the best method of operating the toilets in the future with consideration being given to employing local staff to do the cleaning rather than usual contractors, the current mode of operation.

Artists excel in innovative week

ARTSFEST 2010 came to a close on Sunday after nine days of creativity from across the arts at venues all over Lyme Regis, enhancing the town's reputation for innovative, inspirational work and attractions which were well attended.

Visitor numbers to the exhibitions were slightly down, but quality art has been the focus. Sales at the Baptist Church Hall reflect this trend with a surprising 18 per cent increase over 2009. The Town Mill proved a popular starting point for those exploring the trail or following a particular artist, while top sellers at the Baptist Church Hall was Libby Washington and Hilary Buckley, who started painting only recently, selling four of their works.

Trends are always unpredictable, though favourites Brian Matravers and Michael Stride each sold several large originals. Businesses participating and earning commissions included Castle Wines and Acorn, though one unnamed proprietor asked for a donation to be made to Devon Air Ambulance instead. Phil Clayton had a young patron who spent her pocket money on a print after participating in the Big Draw at the Cobb Aquarium, and Chelsea Davine will need to work hard to replenish her paintings in time for an exhibition at the Russel Gallery in London in January.

Workshops proving popular were Gina Youens' calligraphy and Ann Pengelly's stained glass, with Christine Allison's "Sunrise Sketching and Sizzling Breakfast" at By The Bay creating quite a stir both there and on BBC Radio 2.

Writer Anthea Simmons, whose interviews have been featured in View from Lyme Regis since July, used some of the poems from her "Paint the Landscape with Words" workshop when she performed a poetry slot at the Marine Theatre for LymeLit Night, together with a piece from Jane Austen.

LymeLit opened with a soliloquy by Diana Dixon, written and performed by her to an enrapt audience. The second half of the show, in a warm, welcoming theatre, was talented scriptwriter Lucy Daniel Raby's specially-written "Six Characters in Search of a Story", directed by Anthony Shrubbsall. Lucy took the part of Ann Elliot, young London drama students Vanessa Page as Sarah Woodroffe and Natasha Lee-Dowd as Little Pig Robinson gave outstanding performances. It is hoped this piece will be returning to Lyme in pantomime form. The cast praised Anthony for his skill in holding the show together when previous cast members got jobs and had to withdraw only a week before the performance, and said the audience reaction was most encouraging.

The visiting Slovenian Choir gave a concert at St Michael's Church which again had the audience spellbound, the programme ranging from Greek Orthodox church music to light Slovenian folk. Twenty Slovenians sang their hearts out for the love of it, including the organ builder Anton Skrabl who has a deep, resonating bass voice. All credit to Andrew Nicholson for arranging the evening.

The possibilities for future uses for the Malthouse were illustrated on Wednesday evening when music by local and London performers filled the space in a relaxed atmosphere, art and music complementing each other. Another well-supported evening photography, with Richard Austin entertaining enthusiasts with anecdotes and tips, his subjects animals and more recent shots of Lyme.

Dancer Sandra Reeve surprised some with her own "Glimpses" of the art on show, an unusual reflection of pictures and sculptures.

The Jam Factory in Uplyme was once again a mecca of inspiration, full of unexpected installations, and the young B Sharp buskers helped get things off to a great start.

Woodroffe School's Sax Choir led by Ali Young caused a stir at the Mill, intrepid Natalie Manifold took walkers through the Architecture of the Undercliffe in a gale as well as to meet Jane Austin's and John Fowles' Lyme in kinder weather, while plein air painter Phil Clayton battled on regardless.

Rikey Austin found drawing teddy bears was the most popular of her workshops, while Alison Bowskill helped Woodroffe students towards their Arts Awards with projects at the Museum.

Looking back, artist director Christine Allison said: "It was people doing what they are passionate about that gave this ArtsFest the upbeat feel."

Director Sally Holman agreed, noting the "aliveness and continually developing character" of the festival in responding to challenges, the confident interaction between the arts making the whole.

She commented: "Sincere thanks go from all ArtsFest people to our business partners, West Dorset District and the Town Council, the Marine Theatre, Town Mill, Museum, Baptist Church, LymeLive TV and local press.

"The success of the past nine days is already leading to plans for the next ArtsFest.

"Possibilities are constantly opening up, it's translating the ideas into happenings for everyone to enjoy that is our aim. Let's see where we stand when there has been a thorough review, but I'm confident we will be here in 2011."

Slovenian choir delights church audience

THE relationship between Lyme Regis and the Slovenian community of Rogaska Slatina, 1,100 miles apart, was further strengthened on Saturday with an appearance of the Smarje pri Jelsah male voice choir at St Michael's Parish Church.

The choir, under the musical directorship of Franci Plohl, was formed nine years ago and is made up of members of the Slovenian chamber of commerce in Rogaska Slatina, all with a passion for singing.

by Philip Evans

One of the leading voices in the choir belongs to Anton Skrabl, better known to the people of Lyme Regis as the man whose company made the magnificent £350,000 new organ that sits majestically in the Hassard Gallery in the parish church.

Saturday evening's concert, attended by about 160 music lovers, was held in aid of the Lyme Regis Organ Appeal.

It was the first time the choir had visited the United Kingdom and they made the most of their short stay in Lyme Regis, visiting Perry's Cider Farm at Dowlish Lake, where they gave an unscheduled performance in the coffee shop, much to the delight of the other customers.

On a stroll around Lyme Regis on Saturday afternoon the Slovenians also burst into song in an impromptu interlude around the Town Clock at Cobb Gate.

Musical journey

The concert was promoted as part of the Lyme Regis ArtsFest whose director Sally Holman got a round of applause for welcoming the choir in the Slovenian language.

The programme took the audience on a musical journey through Slovenia with the choir's repertoire including renaissance and baroque to more contemporary works, embracing music from the folk traditions of southern and eastern Europe.

Anton Skrabl, who has a fine baritone voice, was featured as a soloist in a number of the songs and got a warm round of applause when introduced to the audience by compere Andrew Nicholson, chairman of the organ appeal, who did a splendid job with the pronunciation and interpretation of the musical items.

With Anton Skrabl back in Lyme, it was appropriate that the audience and choir should hear the much admired new organ and church organist Alex Davies obliged by playing a Mendelssohn sonata, which was well received.

After several encores, the choir was thanked by organ appeal patron Minnie Churchill, Deputy Lieutenant of Dorset, who expressed the hope that they would return again.

The Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis, presented the choir with a Lyme Regis Crest and a Richard Austin print as a memento of their visit to the town.

Using Broad Street toilets 'worst experience in my life'

I PICKED up a copy of View from Lyme Regis on Friday September 24th and found myself muttering "well what a surprise" when I read the headline.

Unfortunately, just 15 minutes before, I had found myself in need of a loo. I used the loos to the left of the car park, opposite the clock tower facing the sea.

This is not a phrase I like to use but my immediate reaction was "Oh My God". I can honestly say that as far as public conveniences are concerned, this was the worst experience of my life.

I found myself in a cubicle which had a great deal of what looked like dried excrement on the walls. It absolutely stank of urine and every surface was filthy, so much so I did not want to push the flush. But I did and absolutely regretted it when I found that the basin was also filthy.

I had to buy some antibacterial hand wash because I was concerned that I may have taken some really nasty bacteria away with me. These loos were entirely made of some sort of steel, although obviously not stainless.

Perhaps Lyme Regis councillors can console themselves with the fact that the loos in Bearminster come a close second (I was unfortunate enough to have visited those on Wednesday). Strangely enough these loos are made of the same material. These loos clearly had not been cleaned for quite some time. I live in London and have visited many loos that are frequented by vast amounts of people and to be quite honest they are mostly immaculate.

Come on Lyme Regis, clean up your act. You have a lovely little town, why spoil the experience for your visitors and for locals caught short whilst shopping?

I love Dorset and will be back again and again but I shall be sticking to loos in restaurants and public houses as far as is possible for the foreseeable future.

Lisa Beaumont
(by email)

Editor's footnote: The toilets referred to in this letter are at the bottom of Broad Street and are the responsibility of West Dorset District Council and not Lyme Regis Town Council.

It's the public that make the toilets dirty

MUCH has been written regarding the state of the public toilets in Lyme Regis. May I add my comments from another angle.

Although the cleaning contractors are partly to blame as not sufficient time and attention was spent on cleaning the premises, a lot of the blame lies with the public.

Why people feel the need to vandalise and abuse public toilets is beyond me. If they left the toilets as they found them, and used them properly, we wouldn't have this problem.

I have cleaned toilets for a living, and I know the conditions they get left in. Believe me, it is a thankless task trying to keep them nice. It seems that some clown likes to block up toilets and enjoy seeing water pour everywhere, with no regard for the next person using them.

Also, it is well known that certain members of the public like to steal toilet rolls from pubs and restaurant loos. It is easy to lay the blame on the cleaners but they can't achieve the impossible.

Good news for the young people

THE recent completion of the sale of the Club for Young People to the Lyme Regis Development Trust can only be good news.

We would like to thank all the people of Lyme Regis who supported the action group's petition to the club trustees not to sell the building on the open market. In addition we must pay tribute to the people who attended the public meetings and who supported the purchase fund.

We have worked closely over the last few years with many partner groups who were involved, including the Youth Consortium, Development Trust, Woodroffe School, Town Council, County Council and District Council.

MP Oliver Letwin deserves special mention for the many hours of his time.

We would like to remind the people of Lyme that without their support and close partnership the club would have been sold on the open market and forever lost to the town, so everybody can feel that their best efforts have paid off.

We will, of course, continue to support the young people of Lyme Regis in the development of their new centre.

C.C. Clipson (on behalf of the Action Group)

Big coffee thanks

WE would like to express our sincere thanks to all those who supported our recent event for The Macmillans World's Biggest Coffee Morning. We raised a total of £265.10.

Thank you to all of our customers, some of which were unable to attend, but donated money prior to the event. Macmillan will use this money to provide support for people affected by cancer. We hope that they achieve their target of £8 million.

Thank you again for your support

Better youth facilities now a reality

LYME Regis will have a youth club worthy of its young citizens.

I'd almost given up hope of writing that sentence. Just a few months ago it seemed there was no prospect of peace breaking out between the trustees of the former young people's club and those who wanted to reopen the Church Street premises.

As reported in last

Lyme Matters

by Philip Evans

week's View, Lyme Regis Development Trust, thanks to a donation of £60,000 from Dorset County Council has now acquired the building, closed for several years because it was deemed unfit for purpose.

There are those, understandably, still smarting over the fact that the trustees did not hand over the club to the town, especially as half the money for its original purchase came from local fundraising.

The trustees will argue that they have a responsibility to the owners of the property, the National Association of Young People's Clubs, and that the money they have acquired from the sale will stay in the town and be used to make grants to worthy youth causes.

Now the property is back in community hands, the emphasis will turn to making the building safe and then carrying out the necessary improvements to reopen the club. Original estimates put this work at £270,000, a big sum to raise in these austere days, but with voluntary help this sum may reduce drastically.

Dorset County Council has come in for a lot of stick over the years for the meagre sums they have put into youth provision in Lyme Regis, much less than in other West Dorset towns.

But with the Woodroffe School now crucially in-involved in the future of the club, they have come up trumps with the £60,000 asking price. New youth leader, James Ward-Rice, whom I met last week, is looking forward to working with the town's youngsters to create a provision which will be serve the town for many years.

He is not underestimating the challenge of raising such a large sum of money to get the club open, but he's confident that by working in partnership with the youngsters (very important) and other agencies, a new youth club will emerge.

It's impossible to give a date when the club doors will open again. In the meantime, an interim management committee involving all sections of those who have played a role in getting this far will be set up.

An immediate concern is to get the building watertight. I recently had a look around the former church hall and it was clear that much of the damage inside had been caused by water caused by poor maintenance over the years.

Some will say that the trustees should have exercised their duty of care more effectively over the years but lack of funds was clearly an issue here.

With last week's heavy downpours, I understand that immediate repairs have to be carried out by the development trust to prevent further costly damage.

In last week's front page story I wrote that the acquisition of the club premises was "good news" for the youth of Lyme.

That's how we should look at this from now on, putting aside the anger and frustration that has surrounded this issue over the past 12 months.

At long last, a new youth club for Lyme is very much a reality. About time to, you may say. But a little patience may still be required.

EVENT OF THE WEEK ...

A HUGE beneficial by-product of the new Skrabl organ at St Michael's Parish Church has been the boost it has given to the musical life of Lyme Regis.

Since its installation last December, a number of brilliant concerts have been staged at the parish church as fundraisers, bringing some of the top names in the organ world to Lyme Regis.

None have been more enjoyable, even to a musical philistine like myself, than Saturday evening's concert by the Slovenian male voice choir with the almost impossible pronunciation, Smarje pri Jelsah.

The common denominator, of course, is Anton Skrabl, one of the principal soloists with the 22-strong choir and the man whose company built and installed the magnificent new organ in the parish church, recognised as THE best organ in the diocese and I daresay one of the best church organs in the country.

The choir is made up of businessmen in the town on Regaska Slatini, near to which Anton Skrabl's factory is based. Clearly, they all have a passion for the music of their native country, evidenced by the number of voluntary encores at Saturday's concert.

I saw the choir arrive at the church on Saturday afternoon as they carried crates of Slovenian wine into St Michael's, necessary, we were told later by compere Andrew Nicholson, for lubrication!

Earlier in the day, they visited Perry's Cider Farm at Dowlsh Wake where they felt obliged to taste the local brew.

the audience captivated by the musical tour of Slovenia they were given later in the day. The fact that we did not understand the words made no difference.

What came over strongly to me was the sheer enjoyment of the singers and the obvious pride in their musical heritage.

Having written a book, "From Slovenia with love..." on the story behind the organ, I'm a big admirer of the organ appeal committee, led so enthusiastically by Andrew Nicholson. There's still a little way to go before they finish paying for the organ. Not only are events like Saturday's concert helping them get to their final target but they are also providing Lyme Regis will quality entertainment which would never have happened had it not been for the Skrabl organ.

Museum trust keen to proceed with new wing

THE trust which runs the award winning museum in Lyme Regis is anxious to proceed with plans to build a major extension to their existing building.

They believe that the addition of a new wing, to be named after Lyme's most famous fossiliser, Mary Anning, is essential to "do justice to the wonderful scientific and artistic heritage of Lyme Regis" and to welcome more visitors in comfort.

In making a case for the extension, the trust points out that many extraordinary fossils continue to be found in the Lyme Regis area but there is no museum in a prime coastal location on the Jurassic Coast for their exhibition and interpretation.

■ AN artist's impression of how the museum extension will look

by Philip Evans

They also believe that the artistic and literary heritage of Lyme demands a gallery with the space to mount significant new exhibitions include the loan of exhibits from major UK and international galleries.

To accommodate the extension it would be necessary to build over the car parking area adjacent to the museum which is currently used by councillors and this is likely to be a sticking point. It is suggested that alternative parking could be provided on Theatre Square outside the Marine Theatre.

Museum officials, including curator Mary Godwin, recently met with councillors to discuss their plans.

Mrs Godwin explained that the trust was anxious to move ahead with the proposal subject to confirmation from the town council that the necessary car park land would be made available under lease as had been previously discussed.

Councillors were of a view that the plans should be re-examined together with the draft lease that was produced at earlier discussions and the council to consider, during the next cycle of meetings, whether any future plans or requirements would be fettered by releasing land to the trust.

◆ Lyme Regis Museum was built in 1901 by Thomas Philpot, a relative of the Philpot sisters who had worked with Mary Anning. The architect was George Vials, who also designed the Guildhall next door.

Belmont to be restored and opened to the public

THE Landmark Trust, a national building preservation charity, has unveiled its plans for the restoration of the 18th-century house Belmont in Lyme Regis.

Belmont was the seaside villa of Eleanor Coade, the 18th-century inventor of an artificial cast stone known as Coade Stone, and later the home of author John Fowles from 1968 until his death in 2005.

The charity has applied to West Dorset Council for Listed Building Consent for its plans for the house, which it seeks to return to its 18th-century villa form. In the 1880s, two large rear wings were added to the house by a local doctor, Dr Richard Bangay.

Sadly, these became dilapidated and were largely removed in the 1960s. Landmark has commissioned extensive research on Belmont by a team of experts including archaeology, paint analysis, structural analysis and documentary research. On the basis of this research, the Landmark Trust has concluded that the remnants of these later extensions so compromise the exceptional interest of Mrs Coade's original 18th-century seaside villa that their removal is justified.

"Belmont was once a beautiful house with important historical associations but its structure has become confused and compromised", said Peter Pearce, Director of the Landmark Trust.

"If permission is granted, Landmark's scheme would recover its former beauty and significance by restoring it to its original form, as well as enabling public access to the house and its gardens, and providing a place to learn about Mrs Coade and John Fowles, as well as other past residents.

The Landmark Trust acquired the house in 2007 in accordance with John Fowles' wishes that the site be protected from commercial development and be available to everyone to enjoy.

Since 2007, Landmark has carried out a detailed archaeological analysis of the building to establish its development over the past 250 years, the results of which have informed plans for the building's restoration. Once restored the building will be available for self-catering holidays for eight people, so assuring an income for its future maintenance. Working with the Lyme Regis Museum, the charity also plans to open a museum room in the former coach house which will be devoted to the house's past inhabitants.

The Landmark Trust has more than 40 years experience of conserving and restoring buildings like Belmont. Each of the 190 historic buildings in its portfolio has been restored and made available for holidays so that there is an income to fund its continuing maintenance.

In addition to the restoration and long term protection of an important building Landmark's involvement brings various benefits to Lyme Regis. If its application is successful, Landmark would create the museum room and open up views across the site from the Cobb Road and the Cobb itself.

John Fowles' former garden would be cared for and remain a haven for the flora and fauna so loved by the author. The observatory tower, a familiar element on the Lyme Regis skyline, which was built by Dr Bangay, a keen amateur astronomer, would also be preserved as part of the scheme. The house would be opened to the general public on regular days through the year.

If successful in its application, Landmark will need to raise approximately £2 million to fund the restoration before work can start to this important piece of Lyme Regis' heritage.

The Landmark Trust is interested in receiving responses to its plans from local residents. A talk by Landmark's Historian Caroline Stanford is planned in the near future to describe the historical research undertaken on the building and to explain the rationale behind the proposals. Details will be posted on Landmark's website soon, where further information can also be viewed, including an artist's impressions of the restored house. See www.landmarktrust.org.uk. Comments are welcome and can be emailed to info@landmarktrust.org.uk.

Celebrating the legend that is Mary Anning ...

■ JACK THOMAS

■ IMMOGENTHOMAS

LYME Regis Museum has put together a busy and interesting programme of events to celebrate the life and achievements of the town's most famous fossil hunter, Mary Anning.

The Mary Anning Weekend will be held on Saturday, October 23rd and Sunday, October 24th and includes no fewer than 12 different events and activities.

The highlight of the weekend will be an appearance by Sir David Attenborough, a museum patron, on the Saturday. The iconic television presenter will be talking on the pterodactyls, about which he has been making a TV film. Tickets for this event are already sold out.

Two exhibitions will be running throughout the weekend – "Mary Anning and the Men of Science", chronicling the fossiliser's relationship with William Buckland, Charles Conybeare and Henry de la Beche, mounted with support from the Royal Society; and "Duria Antiquior", a 3D recreation of Henry de la Beche's Ancient Dorset painting made by local young people and Darrell Wakelam.

Solatube

Healthy, electric-free lighting

STUDIES show that when people live and work in a well-lit environment, they are happier, healthier and more productive. A Solatube is one of those brilliant, yet simple ideas that works incredibly well and makes great sense, at home or in the workplace.

1. A plastic dome on the roof of your house gathers daylight.
2. This is piped down a reflective tube.
3. Spreading bright daylight evenly in to your room.

The light output is impressive, providing as much light you would expect from a skylight or window many times its size (over 150watts equivalent). Increased exposure to daylight enhances mental and physical well-being, boosts concentration and raises energy levels, whilst enhancing a room. That makes the Solatube a strong contender for both home and office/work installations. To find out more contact approved Solatube installers CommonSense on 01460 61824.

When buying a new Bathroom, remember...

There is a lot to remember when purchasing a bathroom with many different elements that need to be considered: bath, shower, taps, heated towel rails, various bathroom accessories not to mention bathroom furniture. Here are some tips to help you design the perfect bathroom suite:

Set a budget for your bathroom

Bear in mind that you may have to hire somebody to fit the bathroom for you. Try to get a few good quotes from recommended plumbers before you start the project. Remember to budget for redecorating costs. The fittings might be the first step to your new bathroom, but walls and flooring will make all the difference. Bathroom accessories and bathroom storage (bathroom furniture) are just as important as the bath, shower, basin and toilet and will help to create the look that you are after.

Take accurate measurements of your bathroom

If you decide to put your new bathroom fittings in the same place as your old ones, then measure them before you go to look for a replacement, that way you know that your new fittings will fit into the same space.

A note on showers

Check that the shower tray you are thinking of purchasing has a non-slip surface. Also, check with your plumber that the drainage can take the amount of water your shower is producing. Nothing is worse than having an overflowing tray. And always buy the shower enclosure and the shower tray as a set (this way you know that the shower enclosure fits the shower tray).

How do I choose a roofing contractor?

One of the best places to start looking is in the NFRC (National Federation of Building Contractors) Directory which lists proven property professionals from all over the UK. Always make sure the roofing contractor you hire is registered.

Weeding out the cowboys, or how to spot a dishonest contractor,

It is every homeowner's nightmare. Hiring a contractor that seemed capable on first impression, only to have the make a mess of your beautiful home through lack of skill! Ask the prospective contractor for a portfolio of references and photo's of their work. Any good contractor will be happy to show you these. If they're not, it's probably best to look elsewhere.

Pricing and costs

Pricing for roofing jobs depends on the extent and complexity of the job and on the materials used. Always consider written quotes (never verbal) before settling on a roofing contractor. Most professionals will produce a quote within 2 or 3 days.

Questions to ask your roofing contractor

1. Are you a registered trade member?

We recommend that your contractor be registered in a national trade association, such as the NFRC.

2. Does the company carry insurance?

Workers compensation and liability insurance to be specific, if the worker is hurt, and the roofing contractor does not have insurance, then the home owner is liable. Ask to have current certification sent to you. Do not accept the roofing contractor at their word. They may carry health, life and car insurance. Bland assurances of health coverage may refer to these. (Does your roofer's insurance cover him if he is not qualified?)

3. What is the company's workman ship warranty?

Some warranties are for one year, some are for longer. The length of a roofing contractors warranty is not really as important as customer referrals. Most workmanship errors will be found within the first year, probably the first good storm. The reason this question is important is most roofing contractors will warranty the workmanship, and the manufacturer will warranty the product as long as it is installed correctly. Make sure you understand warranties.

4. Does your roofer carry out risk assessments and method statements for each job by a qualified site supervisor?

What is a risk assessment?

- i) Identify the hazard
- ii) Decide who may be harmed and how
- iii) Evaluate the risk and decide on some precautions
- iv) Record your findings
- v) Review your assessment and update if necessary

5. Is your roofer trained to work at heights?

6. Do your roofers have an NVQ or are trained/ approved in the job to be carried out?

New MP to speak at Tory branch autumn lunch

GUEST speaker at the autumn lunch of the Lyme Regis branch of the West Dorset Conservative Association will be new Tory MP Jack Lopresti.

Mr Lopresti, 41, is one of the 232 new members of parliament who were elected at the 2010 election. He represents the constituency of Filton and Bradley Stoke.

Married with three children and living in the Bristol area, Mr Lopresti has been a member of the Conservative party for more than 20 years and served as a councillor on Bristol City Council for eight years. He also stood for the South West candidate at the European elections six years ago.

In his short time in parliament he has been elected to the Northern Ireland Affairs Committee and also serves on the 12-strong committee which scrutinises Coalition policy relating to the province.

Mr Lopresti has also served as a Gunner in the Gloucester Voluntary Artillery, affiliated to 20 Commando Regiment RA, and spent a five-month posting in Helmand province in Afghanistan earlier this year.

The autumn lunch will take place at the Golf Club on Saturday, October 16th and will be hosted by branch chairman Eric Tomlinson.

■ NEW MP Jack Lopresti

COUNCILLORS in Lyme Regis have accepted their valuer's advice and decided to charge £750 per annum for parking bays outside Cliff Cottage in Lister Gardens.

Members of the town council's Operational Management Sub-Committee were told that there was no comparative evidence to indicate the market value of the reserved bays.

Councillor Stan Williams reminded councillors that the average revenue per annum for a space in the council-run Cabanya car park on Monmouth beach was £1,141 and he wondered why they were asking below this figure.

The Mayor, Councillor Michaela Ellis, pointed out that Cabanya was a public car park whereas the Cliff Cottage bays were on land away from the Cobb.

Town clerk Mike Lewis pointed out that they used a professional valuer who searched for evidence for an increase. Public parking was not considered to be comparable evidence.

Councillor Williams said he had provided evidence to the valuer.

by Philip Evans

Mr Lewis pointed out that West Dorset District Council charged £770 per annum for spaces at the Cobb and this figure included VAT.

"We are asking for the market rent as there is no evidence to support an increase if it was challenged," he said. "We would be made to look very silly if we had no evidence."

Councillor Sally Holman said the bays were advertised but there was no response so it was also important to look at what people were prepared to pay.

Councillor Williams proposed that the rents be increased to £1,000 per annum but he did not get a second.

The sub-committee agreed to fix the rents at £750 per annum with Councillor Williams and Councillor Ken Hitchcock the only two voting against.

◆ COUNCILLIORS were told that a trial scheme whereby motorist can pay their parking fees at the Woodmead Halls via their mobile phone was working well.

Since August 26th over £700 worth of transactions had taken place and it was agreed to renew the contract after the trial concluded on November 1st.

Town clerk Mike Lewis commented: "We are very pleased with the result so far."

Councillor Stan Williams said their enforcement officer would have to be "on the ball" to ensure all parkers paid.

Deputy town clerk Simon Ratcliff said there was no evidence of an increase in people not paying.

The council paid a monthly fee for a handheld device which provided details of those using the service.

A DARTS tournament at the Nag's Head in Lyme Regis made a profit of over £700 for the next Candles On The Cobb event in 2012.

Proceeds from the spectacular event organised by town crier Phil Street and assistant harbourmaster Mike Higgs will go to local youth causes and a national charity to be announced.

Phil and Mike wish to thank Robin and Debbie Hamon for allowing the event to take place at the Nag's Head and Terry and Lisa Prowse for organising the tournament.

They also thanked main sponsor Philip Evans (pictured above) for his support and other sponsors, including By The Bay, Mike Wantling, Harry May, Cobb Arms, Lyme Bay Ribs, Lyme Regis Boat Academy, Bay Hotel, Lyme Regis Gig Club, The Slipway, Derek and Elaine Thompson, Colin Jones, Alice's Bear Shop, Rob Perry Marine, Lyme Regis Coachworks, Tackle Box, Mariners Hotel, Lyme Regis Power Boat Club, Hansford Construction, Rob King, Uplyme Filling Station and Dyllis Postles

Chance for young musicians to play Lyme's new Skrabl organ

YOUNG musicians are being given the chance to play the magnificent new Skrabl organ at St Michael's Parish Church in Lyme Regis.

The new organ, recognised as the best musical instrument of its kind in the diocese of Salisbury, will be played by young musicians at an open day to be held at the parish church on Saturday, October 30th.

The project, called "pipe up", is being organised by the diocese and supported by the Tindall Trust, sponsors of individual lesson charges and costs for workshops and the hire of church buildings and organs.

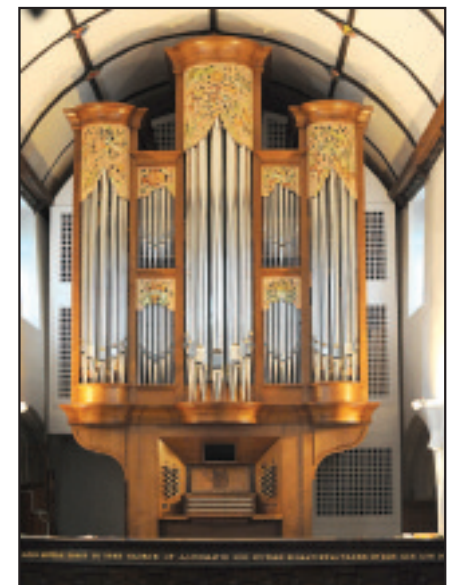

The trust is particularly interested in supporting young musicians who do not have access to organs for lessons in their schools.

The tutors at the Lyme "pipe up" open day will include Robert Fielding, who is organist at Romsey Abbey, and Richard Godfrey, "pipe up" teacher for the Dorchester area.

The day is open to anyone between the ages of nine and 20. They should be interested in pipe organ music and have some knowledge of keyboard playing. All participants will be asked to prepare two short pieces of music lasting no more than five minutes.

The Skrabl organ, built in Slovenia and costing £350,000, has a built-in video system so all those taking part in the open day will be able to hear and see what is happening at the console on a big screen.

The cost of the day is £12 and more information is available by contacting Linda Nicholson on 01297 445865.

Plan for allotments on private land

ALOCAL farmer is investigating the possibility of making his land available for those looking for allotments in Lyme Regis.

Following Lyme Regis Town Council's failure to use the Strawberry Field for 26 new allotments, a nearby field could become available if there is sufficient interest.

Discussions have taken place between the landowner and the town council and town clerk Mike Lewis said they would support the idea in principle.

He said: "We are still trying to achieve more provision for allotment holders and in principle we would be happy to support the efforts to make private land available and give any help we can."

The town council ran into legal difficulties in using part of the Strawberry Field for allotments and have been looking at other sites.

A 15-acre field could be made available on land adjacent to the Golf Club's driving range in Charmouth Road.

As well as using land for allotments, the land owner would be prepared to allow the allotment holders to keep chickens, not an option at the Strawberry Field or on the town's existing allotments next to the Charmouth Road car park.

Those interested in the project should contact Mark on 0787 542061

Creature Comforts Grooming Salon

CREATURE Comforts moves with the seasons, Do You? Look no further. Keep that fresh, clean summer feeling when greeted by your best four legged friend. Just because the summer has gone, doesn't mean the wet, damp smell of your dog's coat has to return too.

Autumn usually brings a lot of rain with it... so instead of waiting till next summer to give your dog's coat a trim or remove matts and tangles. Book a clip, a nice fragranced bath, completed with a blow dry and nails trimmed. Keep your pet's coat and skin clean and parasite free to avoid unnecessary skin problems. If left untreated hair between the toes can develop into stone like knots which can cause lameness, dirty damp coats can result in wet eczema on the skin. We offer a discount for first time customers, a bespoke service to suit your request and advice on which grooming tools to maintain your dog's coat. For more information and friendly advice telephone our salon today we look forward to meeting you and your pet.

Rose-Marie Finlay - Kinesiologist

Rose-Marie Finlay, Kinesiologist, Reiki Master and NLP Master Practitioner

During the last 20 years I am fortunate enough to have helped many people reach their full potential in health and in their personal goals, working with Kinesiology, NLP and practising and teaching Reiki healing. I moved to Bridport three years ago, the best move I ever made, and I have clinics in Bridport and London.

I aim to provide a professional, safe and friendly environment in which my clients can have the individual care and attention they need to restore them to health and wellbeing.

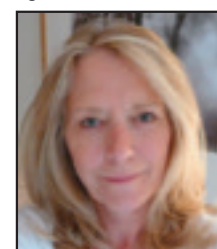

Most people consult me with a health problem, which often involves helping them to reduce the effects of stress. Kinesiology is very effective because it provides the biofeedback necessary to uniquely tailor treatment to that person's specific needs. Several clients might have similar symptoms; bloating, constipation, hormonal problems or skin complaints, but these may have varying causes in these individuals and require different remedial solutions.

For one person it may be a lack of necessary enzymes required to breakdown and absorb food. Another could suffer from high levels of stress which can cause their body to shut down some of the digestive mechanisms.

Others may be intolerant to certain foods or substances or vulnerable to invasion by unfriendly bacteria, parasites or yeast infections.

I may use Reiki healing or some NLP processes within the treatment and I also offer these modalities as treatments in their own right.

Rosemary Rees Homeopath

Homeopathy has taken quite a battering in the press and on TV recently. Those who have used it know that homeopathic remedies can help to relieve illnesses and ailments that have troubled them for a long time or which they cannot shake off.

Homeopathic remedies work with the body's own healing ability. Only a gentle nudge to the healing process is needed to mobilise the body's healing powers, so remedies are low in dose, often given as a single pill, safe and gentle for all ages.

Homeopaths are skilled in taking your history, so great attention is paid to the smallest details of you and your symptoms. Illness is treated with a remedy that most closely resembles those symptoms, if the remedy were taken in an unprepared form. Thus, Coffee Bean is often used for sleeplessness, but in homeopathic form has the power the reverse sleeplessness.

However, sleep problems can be an indication of a deeper upset or grief, so the homeopath will listen to your feelings, fears and worries and prescribe a remedy that will help those symptoms and encourage restful sleep.

If you would like to discuss whether homeopathy can help you, call me on 01305 871625.

Beautiful fashion boutique for "real" women

Figure Eight located in Antelope Walk Dorchester specialises in fashion for "real" women from sizes 16 to 30.

The shop is the brainchild of proprietor Elaine Keetch, a designer who ran successful businesses in Bath, Wells and Yeovil before relocating to Dorchester.

Elaine explains, "several of my friends were bemoaning the fact that as plus size girls, they were disappointed with the range of day and occasion wear available. I felt that there was a real problem for ladies who were not in the size 8 to 12 range who still needed clothing to suit their lifestyle and I decided to specialise in finding the very best clothes in sizes up to 30".

Since opening in Dorchester the collections have grown, stocking labels from across Europe, Chalou, Sempre Prui, Be The Queen, Rhiona Stone to name a few.

Due to the demand for the collections, Elaine is looking at stocking some ranges from a size 12.

Figure Eight has launched their new website where you can browse the new autumn/winter collections and can be made aware of seasonal promotions and events.

Personal shopping experiences will also soon be available for those who find it difficult to come during shop opening or for a personal shopping experience to share with friends and have fun for an evening.

As always, we also stock a fantastic range of handbags, wraps, jewellery and other accessories whatever your size.

If you have not yet visited us, please call in for a warm welcome or look online at www.figure8collection.co.uk

Bienvenue and Welcome to No 6 French Restaurant!

No 6 in Dorchester, Dorset, is a contemporary restaurant with a convivial atmosphere. Located in North Square this is "the" place to be seen in Dorchester. Offering a great range of locally sourced produce, French Chef Christian Lohez and his wife Sylwia welcome you to their outstanding restaurant, which is already very popular with the locals.

No 6 is just a stone's throw away from the town centre - come along, sip an aperitif with some juicy, marinated olives. Order your Buckland Newton venison steak, Lyme Bay king scallops or the freshly delivered Gurnard and indulge yourself with an exceptional dessert. Even, if you are in for a short lunch, there is plenty on the menu to get your taste buds going.

Freshness is the key to the ethos of the house and this is put into action through the daily changing blackboard. The unpretentious cuisine offers a menu that is simple but flavour-some and can be accompanied by a selected house wine or from the wine menu. Fish, meat or seafood, there is enough to satisfy the palate of even the most discerning Dorset connoisseur, but not enough days in the week to try all the offers on the board.

For more information please visit www.no6-restaurant.co.uk or call Christian and Sylwia on 01305 267679.

Bartle Pye defy the odds

IN THE last twelve months thousands of small companies around the country have been driven out of business by the recession, so it was a bold move by Matt Pye and Jan Merriott to start a new venture two years ago when the economy was starting to fail.

They launched Bartle Pye, a completely independent property consultancy and agency and prospered despite the grave situation that has seen companies go to the wall.

Jan is a chartered surveyor who has lived and worked locally in the area for the last seven years, whilst Matt has worked in the local business sector for many years, and was the national property acquisition manager for a large commercial company.

The business soon expanded from commercial projects dealing in industrial, office, retail, hotel/leisure, land and development and investment property, and has led to the formation of a residential agency who celebrated their first anniversary in business last week.

This division is led by a partnership headed by Sue Burden, Mariana Hardcastle and Phillip Rockford FNAEA, who between them have decades of experience in the property market; both nationally and more importantly in the local area.

Asked how Bartle Pye had managed to buck the trend Jan said: "We are local people working in the local community, and that has helped considerably. We have had fantastic support from residents who realise that our local knowledge is an asset."

"It has been hard work, particularly being in a recession, but everything has been very positive, and none of us would go back to being employed."

"We are pleased with our progress in the first year and are looking forward to expanding it further in the coming year."

In addition to working on many projects in the Dorchester area, Bartle Pye Commercial have been involved in the purchase of the New Zealand Works for building development, and last week the sale of The Lyric Theatre in Barrack Street, both in Bridport, as well as projects so far afield as Poole and Sherborne.

Best of British!

Afternoon tea at the Old Tea House 'Bring back the traditional English tea time!' 'Relax and make time for tea.'

This is how Country Living Magazine described this teahouse built in 1635. Afternoon tea bridges the divide between young and old, everyone from small children to grandparents enjoys teatime.

The Ritz is unbeatable for its high teas and ambience, but our wonderful tea house is right here on your doorstep in Dorchester waiting to embrace and delight you with the most wonderful home made scones and tea time treats.

Due to popular demand the proprietors of the Old Tea House Derek and Debbie Dalley have recently introduced a luxurious B&B room complete with a large lounge, four-poster bed and en-suite. As the building has particular historic value, with a Thomas Hardy connection and tunnels to the old court rooms, it has attracted guests and visitors from far and wide.

One of the favourite customer reviews that Mr and Mrs Dalley received;

"A mix between Faulty Towers and Acorn Antiques with a mixture of fairy dust."

Come along, relax, stay and enjoy one of Dorset's most beautiful and most haunted B&B and tea rooms. A warm welcome awaits you so don't hesitate to revive the great British tradition of high, afternoon and cream teas. Best of British!

Look good this Christmas

With the summer holidays out of the way, and the kids safely back in school many people's thoughts are already turning to Christmas and very soon you will start to receive the inevitable invitations to work parties, dances and social events.

With the party season in the not too distant future, and Christmas just 11 weeks away, it is never too early to start thinking about how you can lose weight before the festive period.

So you may be asking 'what hope do I have in reaching a healthier weight before Christmas after I've splurged whilst on holiday and over the summer months? And, what's more, if I do lose weight, how will I maintain it over the festive season?'

The answer lies in starting your weight-loss journey now, setting goals and rewards that will spur you on to your main goal - your ideal weight, and a healthier life.

Many overweight people dread the end of year parties and wearing shapeless clothes in order to cover up, but by taking action and doing something about your weight problem now you needn't stress about how you are going to look at this year's festive get-togethers.

Instead you can look forward to wearing a new little black dress or snappy suit and imagine just how shocked your family and friends will be when they see the new slim and healthy you, especially the ones that haven't seen you since last Christmas.

Celia Manville & Maggie Duarte are counsellors for LighterLife, a weight-loss and weight-management programme designed for adults with one or more stone to lose. For further information and to book a free information session, call 07515 699 801 or visit

Johnnie Walker brings his new show detailing his life and times in radio to the Electric Palace LEGENDARY radio DJ Johnnie Walker hits the road with his brand new show 'Musical Milestones' that tells the story of his life and times in Radio, and the music that has influenced him from the 1960's to the present day.

Johnnie Walker MBE is a popular British veteran radio disc jockey and broadcaster. Johnnie started his radio career in 1966 on an offshore pirate radio station Swinging Radio England before moving to Radio Caroline. Walker was one of three DJs still broadcasting when Government action forced pirate stations to close, with an estimated 20 million people listening in. The film 'The Boat That Rocked', for which Walker was an advisor, references the final days of pirate radio.

In 1969 he joined BBC Radio, and has been a familiar voice on Radio 1 and 2 ever since, having presented the popular Drive Time show.

Walker is noted for his knowledge and love of music, his championing of new artists and his attributing more importance to songs he plays rather than the chat in between.

Johnnie now presents 'Sound Of The Seventies', and 'In Concert' on BBC Radio 2.

Johnnie Walker will be appearing at the Electric Palace on Monday, October 11th. Tickets are on sale now for £16.50 from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901.

Eat Dorset Food Fair BE HAPPY

THE Eat Dorset Food Fair started with a handful of producers in a small tent in the grounds of Parnham House. Five years later it is ranked among the best food fairs in the country.

Last year it was one of six finalists in the 'Best Countryside Event' category of the Countryside Awards given by Countrylife Magazine. Mark Hix rated it as one of his top three Food Fairs in The Independent this year.

The Times newspaper in its list of recommended food festivals for 2010 described EAT DORSET as 'more like the squire's summer do than a commercial event. ... But though the fair is rural it is by no means parochial, and features talks and demonstrations from some of London's top Chefs.'

Set in the beautiful rolling hills of West Dorset, EAT DORSET brings together the best of local produce from land and sea. The combination of a wonderful diverse range of delicious produce, an outstanding setting, talented and interesting Chefs and a real feeling of enjoyment make this a really popular and successful event.

For the first time this year, Lesley Waters will be running a Cookery School at the Festival. She will be teaching small classes how to make simple and delicious recipes in hands-on sessions throughout the weekend. Lesley is always a popular and lively part of Eat Dorset and her we are delighted that she is bringing her renowned cookery school to the Festival.

Other Chefs demonstrating at the Festival this year include Matt Follas, Masterchef winner whose highly successful restaurant The Wild Garlic has received critical acclaim; Marcus Verberne who is Executive Chef at Browns Hotel in London and trained at the Caprice, The Ivy and Sheekeys. Tamasin Day-Lewis; well known for her television series, writing and very successful cookery books; Victoria Blashford-Snell, cookery writer, teacher and highly respected party cook and Aidan Chapman from The Phoenix Bakery respected and loved for his wonderful bread.

This year The Hive Beach Cafe will be running a Champagne and Oyster Bar bringing their seaside magic to the Deer Park at Parnham. They will be serving local oysters, crab sandwiches and their famous lightly spiced seafood soup.

The Cafe will be run by Victoria Blashford-Snell, renowned for her delicious and original style of cooking. It will be open all day from breakfast to tea.

Other events at the Festival will include Foraging Walks accompanied by local experts, specialist talks by local experts and a great range of hands on activities for children including cake decorating; bread, chocolate and kite making and horse and cart rides in the deer park.

Dorset Cereals and Clipper Tea are sponsoring the Festival again this year. They are both very well known for the quality of their produce, the success of their companies both at home and abroad and the importance that they place on being based in Dorset.

The beautiful gardens, grounds and deer park of Parnham House will be open to anyone attending the Fair.

Don't miss Jon Richardson perform his new show at Bridport Arts Centre

2009 EDINBURGH Comedy Award nominee and Have I Got News For You panellist Jon Richardson will be bringing his new show 'Don't Happy, Be Worry' to Bridport this autumn. Following three years of shows picking apart his personality, this year sees Jon going against regular convention and trying desperately NOT to be himself. One of comedy's grumpiest young men attempts to deliver a genuine, feel-good hour full of love and bubbles and sunshine. Can a misanthropic leopard change its hate-filled spots?

Away from the platform of stand-up Jon is also massively in demand in the realms of television and radio. Having left his job as host on the much loved BBC6 Music Sunday mid-morning show in March after three years, his recent TV credits include; Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow, Never Mind The Buzzcocks, Grumpy Young Men, The Bubble and Walk on the Wild Side. As well as recording a pilot for his own BBC Radio 4 show Debatable, Jon has made appearances on numerous radio shows.

Jon Richardson performs his new show 'Don't Happy, Be Worry' at Bridport Arts Centre on Tuesday, November 30th. Tickets, costing £13 (full), £12 (supporters), or £10 (concessions), are available from the box office on 01308 424204, or online at www.bridport-arts.com

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

"Youth is like spring, an over-praised season more remarkable for biting winds than genial breezes. Autumn is the mellower season, and what we lose in flowers we more than gain in fruits."

Samuel Butler

THE American poet and novelist, Helen Hunt Jackson (1830-1885) became best known for her championing of the, then, misused American Indians. Her popularity resulted in several schools being named after her, as well as a waterfall (Helen Hunt Falls) in Colorado Springs. Let us hope that October in Dorset brings some of the 'bright blue weather' she writes in praise of in this poem.

October's Bright Blue Weather

*O suns and skies and clouds of June,
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather.*

*When loud the bumblebee makes haste,
Belated, thriftless vagrant
And Golden Rod is dying fast,
And lanes with grapes are fragrant;*

*When Gentians roll their fringes tight,
To save them for the morning,
And chestnuts fall from satin burrs
Without a sound of warning;*

*When on the ground red apples lie
In piles like jewels shining,*

*And redder still on old stone walls
Are leaves of woodbine twining;*

*When all the lovely wayside things
Their white-winged seeds are sowing,
And in the fields, still green and fair,
Late aftermaths are growing;*

*When springs run low, and on the brooks,
In idle golden freighting,
Bright leaves sink noiseless in the hush
Of woods, for winter waiting;*

*When comrades seek sweet country haunts,
By twos and twos together,
And count like misers, hour by hour,
October's bright blue weather.*

*O suns and skies and flowers of June,
Count all your boasts together,
Love loveth best of all the year
October's bright blue weather.*

ANOTHER American poet, James Ball Naylor, likes October too and even suggests we raise our glasses in a toast to it. Well, why not?

A Toast to October

*Here's a glass to our monarch, October! -
To the clasp of his work-brown hand,
To the smile that he gives
To each beggar that lives
In his bounteous, sun-kissed land;
To the crimson and gold of his garments,
And the light in his matchless eyes -*

*As they sparkle and shine
With the fruit of the vine
Or the blue of the bending skies.*

*Let us drink to the reign of October! -
To the gray of the frosty morn,
To the silver that gleams
In the shimmering streams -
And the nuggets of golden corn;
To the pumpkins that grow in the valley,
And the fruit-laden boughs on the hill -
To the nectar he sips
As it dimples and drips
From the old wooden cider-mill.*

*Then a glass to our bountiful monarch! -
To his winsome and kingly grace,
To the stubble in rows -
As it bristles and shows
Where the harvest adorned his face;
To the gray of the frosty morning
And the red of the sunset sky,
To the meadowland sere
And the beauteous year -
As our gallant king marches by!*

THE DEATH AND LIFE OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

IN this wryly humorous tale, of murder, mystery and the occult, 'the world's greatest detective refuses to leave the stage!'

'A fantasy based upon a fiction', finds Conan Doyle tiring of his 'intolerably arrogant Sherlock Holmes', and inventing the malevolent Moriarty, to dispose of him.

But Doyle's dangerous strategy, combined with his passion for raising the spirits of the dead, has rather more surreal and dramatic consequences than he bargains for!

After his international success in 'Sherlock Holmes.... the last act!'

Roger Llewellyn returns in this spine tingling new play, written by David Stuart Davies, and directed by Gareth Armstrong with original music by Simon Slater.

Sherlock Holmes... the Death and Life is produced and presented by Makin Projects in association with Guildford's Yvonne Arnaud Theatre, and takes place at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Saturday, October 9th at 8pm. Tickets are £11, or £9 for concessions. To book call the box office on 01297 442138, for more details call 001297 442394 or visit www.marinetheatre.com.

Electric Palace to screen National Theatre Live

THE second season of the National Theatre Live will be screened at the Electric Palace in Bridport and will include Hamlet, Frankenstein, Fela, The Cherry Orchard, King Lear and A Disappearing Number. All performances will be captured live from the National Theatre, except for the performances of A Disappearing Number from the Plymouth Theatre Royal, marking the first time an NT Live performance will originate outside London and King Lear from the Donmar Warehouse in London.

In National Theatre Live's first venture beyond London, and first collaboration with another company, Complicite's A Disappearing Number will be broadcast live from the Theatre Royal Plymouth on October 14th.

A Disappearing Number opened in Plymouth in 2007 and has subsequently toured all over the world to New York, Mumbai, Hyderabad, Ann Arbor, Milan, Sydney, Barcelona and London. Prior to the National Theatre Live broadcast it will play a limited West End season. Awards include the Olivier Award for Best New Play (2008), the Evening Standard Theatre Award for Best Play (2007) and The Critics' Circle Theatre Award for Best New Play (2007).

A Disappearing Number weaves together the story of two love affairs, separated by a century and a continent. The first happens now. The second is set in 1914. It tells of the heartbreaking collaboration between the greatest natural mathematician of the 20th century, Srinivasa Ramanujan, a penniless Brahmin from Madras in South India, and his British counterpart, the brilliant Cambridge don GH Hardy.

With a haunting original score by Nitin Sawhney, this piece of startling visual poetry from Simon McBurney and Complicite is a compelling meditation on love, mathematics and the pain of exile in an age when we think we can belong anywhere and have everything.

Tickets for the showing of A Disappearing Number plus the entire National Theatre Live season are on sale now from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901. All seats are £12.50.

THE CONFETTI MAKER

Frank Wurzinger's new solo show, The Confetti Maker, is a day in the life of a full-time confetti factory worker. Full of optimism, he pursues his profession: making confetti - cutting, perforating, shredding - all day, every day - but he has ambitions, dreams and fears far beyond the factory life - romance ... love ... family ...

The Confetti maker is a highly visual piece, which combines slapstick, puppetry, absurd storytelling, improvisation, and of course, lots of small bits of paper, which are woven into a hilarious, yet poignant show.

SKY STEAL MAD MEN?

EMOTIONAL FAREWELL FOR JACK | Coronation Street's Jack and Vera Duckworth were a match made in heaven, so it seems only fitting that the legendary pigeon fancier's ashes will be scattered into the sea at Blackpool – just like those of his beloved late wife.

Tyrone Dobbs will take his friend's remains for one last ride on the promenade tram before casting them off the North Pier. Jack's screen wife Vera – played by Liz Dawn – died from a heart attack in 2008, leaving him bereft.

Actor Bill Tarmey, who has played Jack on Corrie for 31 years, has already filmed his final scenes, which will air next month.

Members of the cast and crew wept openly as a cancer-stricken Jack passed away, after Vera had appeared to him in a moving dream sequence.

LOUIS PICKS HIS FAVOURITE | X Factor judge Louis Walsh has tipped one of his rival judges' acts to win the series after backing painter and decorator Matt Cardle to win the competition.

Louis, who is looking after the older acts, said that he thought one of Dannii Minogue's charges would triumph in the show.

Speaking ahead of next weekend's first live rounds, he said: "The winner is going to be the one with the most votes, but I think Matt has got something very special about him."

Until a last minute change in the rules, 27-year-old Matt would have been in Louis' group of older contestants. But the minimum age for the "overs" group this year is 29, rather than the previous 26, which means the wannabe will be in the boys' group with Dannii as his mentor.

MADE MEN TO SKY? | Mad Men fans might have to pay to see the next instalment in the lives of Joan, Don and Betty, after BSkyB is reportedly trying to outbid the BBC for the show.

The fourth series of the hit US show, which stars January Jones and John Hamm and follows the New York advertising high fliers of the 1960s, is currently airing on free-to-air digital channel BBC4.

The Guardian has reported that the BBC are in negotiations with US distributor Lionsgate for series five and six, but Sky have allegedly put in a bid which is 25 per cent higher than the BBC paid for the last deal.

The paper claims that, while negotiations have not been closed, the BBC will not attempt to top Sky's offer and the satellite company is set to seal the deal.

Sky has previously outbid free-to-air broadcasters for shows that have become hits, such as 24 and Lost.

BBC director general, Mark Thompson, argued during a lecture at the Media-Guardian Edinburgh International Festival in August that as Sky becomes a "dominant force" in British television it should spend more money investing in British dramas, rather than buying US shows.

A BBC spokesman said: "We're in negotiations for the continuing broadcast of Mad Men but nothing has been confirmed."

A Sky spokesman said: "Sky will always endeavour to bring the best content to our customers, but we do not comment on shows that we don't hold the rights to."

Guitar legend Preston Reed comes to the Marine Theatre

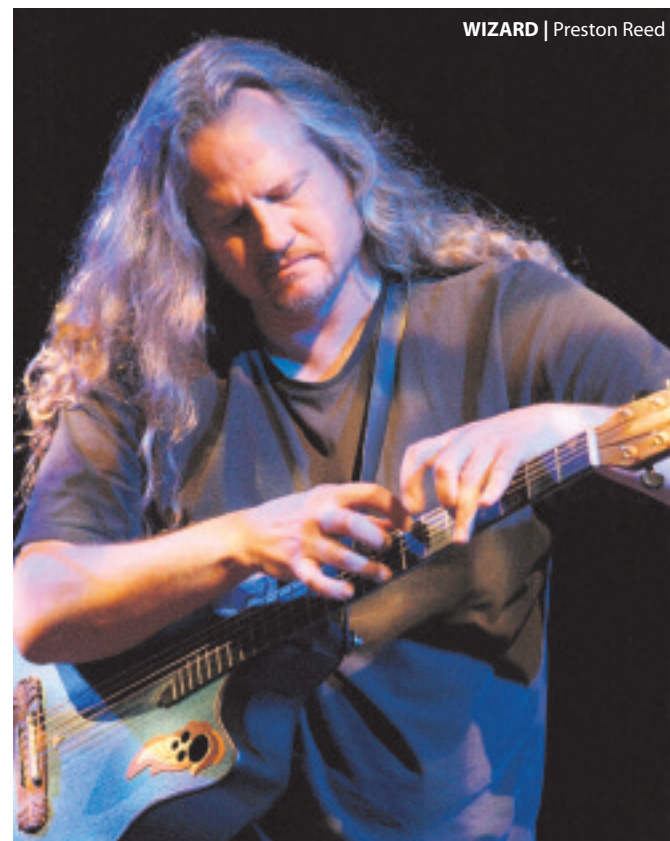

YOU may experience a strange sensation when you watch Preston Reed live for the first time. It starts with a sharp intake of breath. Seconds later, your jaw swings on its hinges, your eyes become dinner plates and your brain fizzles as it computes the musical madness being relayed by your ears. You feel light-headed, because you haven't breathed for two minutes. Don't be alarmed. These are all perfectly normal reactions to witnessing the guitar visionary of the 21st century.

Preston Reed is a one-man revolution. The 53-year-old New Yorker tweaks the nose of musical convention, pokes the eye of accepted wisdom, and burns the rulebook of the past. His unique style is impossible, unfathomable, unthinkable, as with blurred hands he taps, tickles, slaps and soothes his instrument, fusing polyrhythmic percussion with emotive melody to create a sonic landscape. Each piece is a symphonic tidal wave, yet Reed only needs one acoustic and ten fingers to send it crashing onto audiences across the planet.

Starting with 1979's Acoustic Guitar, a volley of thrilling albums spread Reed's reputation, and by 1988 he had signed a major deal with MCA with the help of his friend, country singer Lyle Lovett. But behind closed doors, the guitarist was frustrated. Though spellbinding by any standards, his playing had reached a plateau; his muse held in a stranglehold by the physical limitations of the instrument. Then the thunderbolt struck. Reed wiped his technique clean, stepped into the void and made his first attempt at the two-handed fretboard attack that would change his trajectory forever. Creatively and commercially, things would never be the same again.

But Preston Reed doesn't deal in nostalgia. Twenty years after he changed the face of the acoustic guitar, this trail-blazer still tours and records with a passion that flows into the hearts, heads and feet of his audiences, and continues to push his musicianship to a place where other guitarists fear to tread. Nobody knows where Preston Reed's journey will take him next – not even the man himself. The one thing we know for sure is that it'll be one hell of a ride.

Preston Reed comes to the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Sunday, October 17th, starting at 8pm. Tickets cost £10, and are available from the box office on 01297 442138. For more details call 01297 442394 or visit marinetheatre.com

Douglas in Wall Street sequel

WALL Street: Money Never Sleeps^{12A} sees Michael Douglas reprise his role as disgraced former Wall Street corporate raider Gordon Gekko, in the follow up to 1987's Wall Street

As the global economy teeters on the brink of disaster, young Wall Street trader Jake Moore (Shia LaBeouf) partners with disgraced Gordon Gekko on a two-tiered mission: To alert the financial community to the coming doom, and to find out who was responsible for the death of the young trader's mentor.

Released Wednesday, October 6th.

FINANCIAL FRIENDS | Shia LaBeouf and Michael Douglas star in the Wall Street sequel

COMEDY-DRAMA Mr Nice¹⁸ sees Rhys Ifans play notorious drug smuggler Howard Marks in the big screen adaptation of Marks' autobiography of the same name.

Covering ground from his marijuana fuelled days at Oxford University, post-grad days as a teacher, through to the infamous international drug-smuggler period and subsequent prison-time, the film sees Ifans in typical, but hilarious, 'Welsh boy' mode, and Chloe Sevigny and Crispin Glover also star.

Released Friday, October 8th

Charlie has a special lasting bond with his brother though, as he can see him. Charlie meets up with his brother Sam each night to play catch and talk. Then, a girl comes into Charlie's life and he must choose between keeping a promise he made to Sam, or going after the girl he loves.

A potted history of felt making

THE art of felt making goes back to the earliest times providing clothing and shelter and decorative household items such as carpets and wall-hangings. It is still very much used by nomadic people in parts of Asia.

The process of felt making involves laying out natural wool fibres and then applying friction, moisture with a little soapy water to create a non-woven fabric.

One of the stories relating to the origin of felt making goes like this...

A traveller having walked many miles, placed some sheep's wool from the hedgerow into his shoes to ease his sore feet, then with the process of heat, friction and moisture the fibres felted together to make in effect the first pair of socks! Sounds pretty reasonable to me.

Felt making is relaxing, inspiring and rewarding.

As we work with ancient techniques to create something tactile and beautiful from nature.

MIND, BODY AND SPIRIT FAYRE RETURNS TO WEYMOUTH

BACK at Weymouth, six months after their hugely successful Easter event, the Mind, Body and Spirit Fayre returns to the Pavilion on Saturday, October 30th.

Headlining this Fayre is the UK's foremost spiritual and psychic artist, Patrick Gamble. The event organisers, West Dorset's own Psychic Fayre, are thrilled that Patrick has come on board.

Topping the bill alongside him, in a welcome reappearance, is celebrity master palmist Robin Lown, whose live demonstration proved immensely popular at Easter. Robin will once again be a highlight of the day-long, no-charge programme of talks.

Also back by popular demand are professional astrologer (and internet hit) John Wadsworth and, from Weymouth itself, Lightning Process practitioner Lyn Atkins and nutrition expert Claire Whiles.

Exhibitors at this friendly, free-to-enter event will include psychics and other readers, healers and therapists, a variety of arts and crafts and even an aura photographer.

The Fayre is on Saturday, October 30th, between 10am-5pm. Admission is free and everyone is welcome.

Full details on www.psychicfayre.com, email info@psychicfayre.com or call Susan Outhwaite on 07918 657385.

MILITARY STYLE FITNESS BOOTCAMP OFFER FOR WEYMOUTH

A NEW military-style Boot Camp is open in Weymouth, and they are looking for recruits.

Boris, one of the trainers, says, "We want to promote and give something to the locals of Weymouth by joining our military style fitness training, this sort of thing is sometimes out of budget for a lot of people but offering this opportunity to people at an affordable price will allow people to get expert training for a fraction of the normal cost. We do have fun and all our instruction is done with determination and good humour. We will push you though because we want you to get results"

Billy, another trainer, says, "Boris and I are hoping that people will jump at the chance to increase their fitness levels and become healthier, or just to get that kick start back into training, the hardest thing about training is keeping motivated, but with Boris and Billy behind them there will be plenty of motivation. It will be a first come first served basis but if it is popular then there should be no reason we can't offer it on a monthly basis.

Boris and Billy are giving 10 training places as a non residential boot camper worth £450 for £150; this is for the October boot camp starting October 24th until the 29th 2010. You will have expert training throughout the day for 5 days starting at 7am through to 7pm. As a non residential boot camper you will be released for lunch and dinner, however snacks will be provided and advice will be given on food so that you don't waste all your days' efforts.

"Boot Camp Training Live!" residential course in October will be held at the three star Channel Hotel in Weymouth. For more information about the course and any offers please visit the "Boot Camp Training Live!" website www.militaryfitnessbootcamp.co.uk

Singing and Swinging

WHEN A.J's Big Band takes to the stage at Axminster Guildhall on Friday, October 15th there will be a packed programme of exciting musical arrangements from the swing era designed to get dancers onto the floor for a great evening of waltzes, fox trots, latin, jive and much more. The popular 17 piece boasts an impressive line up of professional musicians some of whom have been playing with A.J's for over twenty years. As well as being noted for its high standard of musicianship, the band is very proud of its featured singer Paula Mitchell.

Paula's musical career spans twenty five years of performing all around the UK and abroad including the prestigious Gleneagles Hotel in Scotland and the Novotel in Times Square, New York. She has worked at Mama Stones, Exeter as head of artiste development and vocal coach. She performed backing vocals on Joss Stone's latest album Colour Me Free. Musical Director Ken Parr comments: 'Paula is a truly outstanding big band vocalist with a big personality. Her presence lights up the stage and audiences love her interpretations of both ballads and up tempo numbers.'

Tickets for the big band dance night are £12.50 and are available from Archway Book Shop, Axminster. Telephone 01297 33595.

Elder & Froy expand yet again

ELDER & Froy are creating new employment as they open their fifth office in 21 East Street, Ilminster.

Established in 1999, Elder & Froy, an independent firm of selling and letting agents, goes from strength to strength as they increase their portfolio of offices, creating fantastic coverage across West Dorset and South Somerset.

This new location in Ilminster complements the network just perfectly, linking up with what was the newest location in Crewkerne. Elder & Froy recruited four new team members in August, and the team, now totalling 16 employees, hasn't lost focus of what makes the company successful – good old fashioned friendly and efficient service. Selling, letting, managing, consulting, their mission statement is simple – “we are in the business of helping people move, let's do it together”.

Meet the team at www.elderfroy.co.uk and read their testimonials from many satisfied customers.

Honda drives down car buying and running costs

CUSTOMERS visiting Honda dealerships can take advantage of three years' affordable driving, cost savings and competitive finance options, to help off-set the cost of new car ownership for the first three years.

Three Years' Affordable Driving

After a successful 'Three Years' Affordable Driving' campaign launch in early summer, Honda (UK) is extending the popular offer. Customers can now benefit from three years' complimentary servicing, three years' free road tax and a range of competitive finance options on the majority of Jazz, Civic and Insight models. The CR-V petrol range also benefits from three years complimentary servicing alongside a selection of low-rate finance options.

This offer, combined with Honda's standard one year's road side assistance, three year new car warranty and Honda's reputation for bulletproof reliability, means affordable Honda new car ownership for the first three years.

Customer savings
In addition to driving down running costs, savings can also be made on selected Jazz, Civic and Insight models. Customers can drive away with a new Jazz 1.2 S from £9,995 – a saving of £995, or a Civic 1.4 Type-S from £13,995 – or even an Insight for just £14,995, further cementing its place as the lowest price hybrid on the market.

Those customers wanting to buy a Type-R before UK production halts later this year can get an impressive £2,330 saving on the Type-R GT – bringing the cost down to £19,995 OTR.

Low-rate finance options
There is also a selection of competitive finance options available to enable drivers to spread the cost over three years to provide a low monthly payment.

For example, with a 25 per cent deposit, customers can secure a 5.9 per cent PCP over three years. For those with a smaller deposit, 10 per cent can secure a 7.9 per cent PCP over the same duration. A two year 0 per cent HP is available with a 35 per cent down payment.*

Are you driving a future classic?

CAR DEPRECIATION, like death and taxes, seems unavoidable. From the highest priced luxury marques, to the mass market family saloons, most new cars lose part of their value the minute they're driven off the dealer forecourt and continue to depreciate as they get older. But which of today's models might become valuable collectors cars in the future?

British Car Auctions (BCA) suggests some affordable future classics you can buy today:

"If you want a car that has a good chance of gaining classic status in the years ahead – plus the premium values that go hand in hand with that – then there are some interesting options available to used car buyers", explained Tim Naylor, PR Manager, BCA.

"Second guessing future trends is never an exact science – after all who would have thought the 1980s would get fashionable again? Certainly in the collectors car market, beauty really is in the eye of the beholder. Rarity does not necessarily make for desirability, nor does an exclusive and limited model run and high 'list price' necessarily mean a car will be worth more in years to come."

Two-seater sports cars are always a good bet for future classic status, according to BCA. The Mazda MX5 're-introduced' the traditional 2-seat Sports Roadster to the mainstream and early examples are now relatively cheap to buy. Alternatively, the Honda S2000, which is fairly limited in terms of supply, could well hold its value in the years ahead if bought sensibly and well-maintained. The fact that there is an already active collectors club is also a good sign.

The even scarcer Lotus Elise would also be a stronger contender as a future classic and even early models hold their value well. Although not having the same cachet as the Lotus marque, the otherwise similar Vauxhall VX220 is significantly less expensive for a car of comparable age, mileage and condition.

Global reveal of new high-performance Ford Focus ST at Paris show

THE EXCITING next-generation Ford Focus ST makes its global debut at the 2010 Paris Motor Show, providing an early preview of the new high-performance model which will be introduced around the world in 2012.

Ford's first global high performance model and a star attraction for Ford in Paris, the powerful new Focus ST show car was revealed today by Alan Mulally, Ford's president and CEO, and Stephen Odell, chairman and CEO, Ford of Europe.

This range-topping Focus will be completely true to Ford's ST model heritage, offering driving enthusiasts an intoxicating cocktail of exhilarating performance and handling, an addictive sound and muscular sports design.

"The ST will be the performance flagship of our new Focus range, and we are excited to provide our enthusiast customers with an early preview in Paris," said Gunnar Herrmann, Ford Motor Company's global C car vehicle line director. "The ST represents an ultimate expression of Focus driving quality and performance and we are confident that the new model will strengthen the reputation of Ford's ST heritage among enthusiast drivers and attract new fans as well."

Global performance model

One common Focus ST model is being developed for all global markets, with the vehicle targeted for launch during 2012. This will be the first time that Ford has produced one of its highly regarded high-performance models for a global audience.

The Focus ST development programme is being undertaken by Ford's global Performance Vehicles group, which comprises Team RS (Europe) and SVT (USA) engineers, who are dedicated to developing and tuning products like the formidable Focus RS, Shelby GT500 Mustang and Raptor SVT F150.

For new Focus ST the development is being led by Team RS performance specialists based in Europe, building on their extensive experience in engineering sought-after cars like the previous ST models and legendary RS series.

"The new Focus ST will be our first true global performance vehicle and we are excited about the chance to give many customers worldwide their first taste Ford's acclaimed ST heritage," said Jost Capito, director of global performance vehicles. "Like the ST and RS models before it, the Focus ST will be the result of painstaking tuning around the curves of the Nürburgring, along high-speed German autobahns, and down classic British

B-roads.

"For European drivers, the Focus ST will bring the same distinctive qualities of pure dynamics and performance that have created the unique appeal of our ST heritage.

"For enthusiasts in North America and Asia who have asked why our compact performance models were not available to them – the wait is almost over! The new Focus ST will offer exactly the same exciting driving experience wherever it's on sale," added Capito.

More performance – and more economy – from Ford EcoBoost power

At the heart of the appeal of the next-generation

Focus ST is a high-output 250PS derivative of the efficient and advanced new 2.0-litre Ford EcoBoost four-cylinder petrol engine.

Succeeding the turbocharged 2.5-litre five-cylinder unit of the current European model, this unique 250PS Ford EcoBoost engine is being specially developed for the new Focus ST to ensure that the car gets the muscular performance – and the inspirational sound – which it deserves. It also marks the first application of the four-cylinder Ford EcoBoost engine in a high performance model.

Compared to the 2.0-litre Ford EcoBoost engine used in other Ford vehicles, the 250PS unit features re-designed intake and exhaust systems and a unique engine calibration to deliver the desired level of power and responsiveness. The engine retains the strong torque delivery which is a feature of Ford EcoBoost designs, with a broad, flat torque curve offering a maximum output of 360Nm.

One of a completely new generation of downsized, high-efficiency, low-CO2 petrol engines from Ford, the 2.0-litre Ford EcoBoost is a lightweight, all-aluminium design which combines three technologies – high-pressure direct injection, low-inertia turbocharging and twin independent variable cam timing – to create an advanced combustion system which brings new levels of performance and fuel efficiency to petrol engines in this power range.

This ultra efficient 250PS engine therefore not only delivers over 10 per cent more power and torque than the current 2.5-litre unit, it is also estimated to reduce fuel consumption and CO2 emissions by more than 20 per cent.

The standard transmission for the Focus ST is a 6-speed manual gearbox, optimised with more sporting ratios carefully matched to the performance characteristics of the engine.

New Ford Econetic technology models drive further improvements in fuel efficiency and co2

FORD OF EUROPE is further accelerating its efforts to deliver improved fuel economy for customers across its vehicle range with the launch of two important new Ford ECONetic Technology models at the Paris Motor Show - the new Ford Mondeo ECONetic and the Ford Ka TDCi with standard Ford Auto-Start-Stop technology. The introduction of these new models follows Ford's substantive contributions to lower CO2 mobility already delivered to European customers in 2010. So far this year, the company has introduced its new range of Ford EcoBoost turbo-charged direct injection petrol engines as well as significantly improved and new versions of its powerful yet fuel-efficient Duratorq TDCi diesel engines across its line up.

Also new are the Ford ECONetic Technologies collection of features designed to help customers equip their car with technical equipment specifically aimed at greener and more fuel efficient motoring. Features such as Ford Eco Mode and Smart Regenerative Charging have been introduced widely in the Ford range, and these combined with the new Ford Ka TDCi and dedicated Mondeo ECONetic models ensure that Ford of Europe is on track to surpass its goal of a 30 percent reduction in CO2 emissions from its new vehicles by 2020, relative to a 2006 model year baseline.

New Ford Mondeo ECONetic: 115g CO2 and standard Ford Auto-Start-Stop

The new Ford Mondeo ECONetic model will be the most frugal Mondeo to date, and will go on sale from the first quarter of 2011.

The new Mondeo ECONetic features a specially calibrated 115 PS (85 kW) version of the 1.6-litre Ford Duratorq TDCi engine equipped with a standard diesel particulate filter and coupled to a Ford Durashift 6-speed manual transmission with a longer final drive of 1:3.69 (compared to 1:4.06 for the standard Mondeo) and purposefully matched ratios across all gears.

Key to the new Mondeo ECONetic's performance is the standard Ford Auto-Start-Stop system which can reduce fuel consumption and CO2 emissions by up to five per cent in mixed driving conditions. In an urban environment and in heavy traffic with frequent stops the savings could increase to as much as 10 per cent.

Ford Auto-Start-Stop features an enhanced and very durable starter motor to support the increased number of engine starts and a stronger pinion-engagement mechanism with reduced noise levels.

A high performance Improved Flooded (IF) Battery with a Voltage Quality Module (VQM) completes the system. It maintains the energy supply to electrical components like the entertainment systems during the re-starting phase of the engine. In addition a Battery Monitoring System (BMS) continuously monitors the Battery status and communicates with the Ford Auto-Start-Stop system, so the system will leave the engine running in the event that the battery does not have a sufficient level of charge.

An integrated system of sensors is used to detect when the driver performs an action that signals the intent to drive off, such as pressing the accelerator or clutch pedal. As soon as the driver prepares to move away, the engine starts quietly and almost instantly - it only takes the system around 0.3 seconds to fire up. The process is virtually imperceptible, and happens before gear selection is completed.

The new Mondeo ECONetic model also includes a special aerodynamic kit including lowered suspension and low rolling resistant tyres. The combination of all of these detail changes means the second generation Mondeo ECONetic is targeted to deliver a combined fuel consumption lower than 4.3 l/100km (more than 65.6 mpg)*, which translates into average CO2 emissions of 115 g/km - an important tax break point in some European markets. Prioritising fuel efficiency does not have to come at the expense of luxury, as the new Ford Mondeo ECONetic will be available across all Mondeo bodystyles and series except for the Titanium S.

The newly introduced Mondeo range also includes a number of available Ford ECONetic Technologies like Smart Regenerative Charging, the Ford Eco Mode driver information system and an Active Grille Shutter system. Ford Ka with Ford Auto-Start-Stop

With the addition of Ford Auto-Start-Stop technology the Ford Ka is now an even more efficient city car where frequent stops at traffic lights and queues due to heavy traffic are the norm.

Ford is now equipping both available engines options for the Ka with Ford Auto-Start-Stop system as standard from November 2010. Both engines will also meet the Euro V emission levels.

This change improves the nominal fuel economy and CO2 emissions by 3 per cent for both engines. The 1.2 litre Ford Duratec petrol engine delivers a combined fuel consumption of 4.9 l/100km (57.6 mpg)* and average 115 g/km CO2, while the 1.3-litre TDCi diesel engine achieves an impressive fuel consumption of 4.1 l/100km (68.8 mpg)* and CO2 emissions of only 109 g/km.

The Ford Auto-Start-Stop system in the Ka features an advanced battery, a reinforced starter motor and a more powerful alternator. The voltage stabilizer module and a battery sensor take care of the battery's charging status and the power supply to the electrical components during the cranking phase.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

WITH HOWARD LARCOMBE

NETHERBURY NET NAP-HAND

Debut day hat-trick for Tolman (16)

DORSET JUNIOR CUP Round One
Piddlehinton Utd 2 Lyme Regis Res 0
LYME Regis Reserves hopes of lifting the Dorset Junior Cup for the first time in 11 years ended in 2-0 defeat at Thomas Hardy Schools at the hands of Piddlehinton United, currently lying third on Dorset League division three.

Lyme came feel a little aggrieved to have perished at this early stage having bossed the first-half but ultimately paying the penalty for not converting several chances. Fred Thomson squandered a one-on-one opportunity before both Luke Street and player-manager Gerard Hitchcock struck the crossbar. Soon after a corner broke to central defender Wallace Blackmore, who has made a fine start to the season, who found himself in unfamiliar territory with the ball at his feet seven yards from goal but shot straight at the Piddles' gloveman.

The second-half was a different matter with the hosts' breaking the deadlock via an upright and adding a crisply struck second five minutes from time.

Top performers for Lyme were playmaker Andy Hitchcock and defender Adam Clarke.

Bradford Abbas 0 Netherbury 5
NETHERBURY, semi-finalists in 2007-08, kept the PSL flag flying with comfortable 5-0 drubbing of Yeovil & District League division two opponents Bradford Abbas.

It was goal less for 43 minutes until Tim Hussey, looking decidedly offside, raced clear to find the net. "It did look as though he was offside, but he finished in typically clinical fashion – and the referee gave it" admitted Ambers' boss Andy Loudon.

Hussey cracked home what Loudon described as a "30-yard peach" soon after the interval and James Sayers also found the top-corner with number three.

An own goal and late strike from Phil Hussey round-off the nap-hand.

Loudon was pleased to welcome back Pete Lawrence and John Kingston after injury and both performed well in midfield.

John Fowler Cup Round One
Lyme Bantams 1 Misterton Res 2
DESPITE defeat, Lyme Regis Bantams, now without a win in six, battled away well to hold a Misterton Reserves side including several regulars from last season's first team.

"We can take a lot of positives from the game" said Bantams' manager Neil MacKenzie. "The youngsters in the side are gaining in experience every week" he added. Missy took the lead in the first-half through Craig Stoodley but Lyme felt keeper Will Meech was clearly fouled in the build-up.

Steve Jervis headed home the visitors second before Jamie Jones fired home for Lyme who were reduced to 10 men when Rory Homes was shown a second yellow card by referee Andy Dyke.

PREMIER
Combe Res 1 South Petherton 6
SOUTH Petherton cruised to a 6-1 victory at Slades Cross to maintain their 100 per cent start in the league and move two points clear at the top.

Lee Richards opened the scoring before player-manager Gordy Childs got on the scoresheet for the first time in 18 months. Further strikes from Richards and Marcus Alexander made the second 4-5 stroll. Alexander, still the subject of an eligibility wrangle between the PSL and the FA, scored his second and Dan John bagged the sixth.

W & M Chinnock 1 Lyme Regis 4
WEST & Middle Chinnock were far from disgraced as they slipped to a third home defeat at the hands of defending champions Lyme Regis.

The hosts, clearly pulling out all the stops to hold the Seaside's attacking talents, held the game scoreless for half an hour.

Dom Rowe, nursing six stitches in a hand injury sustained earlier in the week, saw a header scrambled off the line before Julien Simier broke the deadlock with a low drive through a crowded penalty area for his eight goal of the season.

The Chinnocks began the second-half brightly and were level when Nick Bond's precise 10-yard header nestled in the top corner of the visitors' net.

But the parity was only temporary. Skipper Adam Caddy was in the right place soon after to poke home from close range for Lyme's second and any lingering doubts about the result were extinguished on the hour when Jason Hawker rose to glance home Mark Bailey's long free-kick. Seaside's manager Robin Townsend then rang the changes introducing Rob Thomson and giving a debut to Tyson Lewis. Lewis gave a strong, bustling cameo performance that drew comparisons from the travelling Lyme support of a certain Ellis Hoole. Time will tell, unfortunately the 23-year-old soldier can only offer limited availability.

In the 67th minute Steve Batey, who looked strong in air all afternoon, clipped the crossbar with a header.

The fourth came deep into injury-time when Joe Bond pounced on Chris Langdon's error to slot past keeper Mike Harper.

Merriott Rovers 6 Ilminster Res 0
THIS was undoubtedly the Scott Jennings show.

The firebrand striker moved into double figures for the season with five, four in the first-half, as the hosts cruised to victory.

DIVISION ONE
Crewkerne Town 4 Millway Rise 4

THE early season top of the table clash at Henhayes ended all-square as Rise battled back from 3-0 down to grab a point.

Gavin Charles drilled home a 20-yarder to give the Tigers a slender lead at the break. Further goals from Paul Gold and Jamie Spurdle (pen) looked to have won it for the hosts. Matty Preece pulled one back for Millway but Gold added a second to make it 4-1 on the hour.

Cue the Millway fight-back as Sam Dibbling, and John Vaughan with a brace leveled.

DIVISION TWO
Beaminster Res 6 Hawkchurch 2

THE Beaminster Reserves juggernaut shows no sign of being halted. The Rainbows' second string hit six for the third game in a row to move five points clear at the top.

The latest side to be brushed aside by Robin Ormsby's team were Hawkchurch United in a 6-2 scoreline.

The game was a personal triumph for 16-year-old Dan Tolman who celebrated his full debut with a fine hat-trick.

The youngster netted the first two before skipper Richie Middleton added number three before the interval.

Stuart Weir reduced the arrears for the Hawks after the restart but Dan Pyett got in on the act after the restart to take his personal tally for six in four outings. Ross Pickett bagged number five. Tolman rounded off the hosts scoring before Jack Larcombe netted a late consolation.

"It was pretty comfortable all afternoon" said Ormsby who, due to injuries and unavailability was forced to name a completely new back four but was pleased with their showing.

Dowlish & Donyatt 3 Uplyme 2
"We felt we were probably worth a point" said previously unbeaten Uplyme's joint-manager Gavin Fowler after a 3-2 defeat at Dowlish & Donyatt.

The hosts, on the back of a miserable run of six straight defeats were 2-0 up midway through the first-half before defender Pip Marchant popped up to score his first goal from open play in more than four years.

But the Stripes re-established their two-goal cushion with Marchant scoring at the wrong end leaving Alex Cottle's sixth goal in four games as a mere consolation.

Forton Res 3 Pymore 3
DEPLETED Pymore, missing four or five regulars, were pleased to come away with a point following a 3-3 draw at Forton.

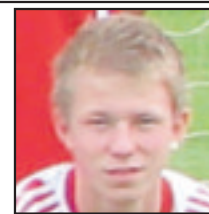

Goals from Mick Gilmore and James Pitcher saw the visitors lead 2-1 but eventually an 81st minute strike from Jamie Harwood saved a point for the West

CUP HERO | Tim Hussey scored twice as Netherbury progressed in Dorset Junior Cup.

PLAYING ON | Dom Rowe shrugged off six stitches in a hand injury to run-out for Lyme Regis at W & M Chinnock

DEBUT TRIPLE | Dan Tolman notched a hat-trick on his first full appearance for Beaminster Reserves

Dorset outfit.

Waytown Hounds 0 Thorncombe Res 3
SECOND-half strikes from John Smith, Tony Bartlett and veteran Paul Male gave the Thorns a surprise three point haul at Netherbury.

The Hounds created little with Stuart Allen's top-corner-bound free-kick well saved by Lee Hutchings the highlight.

Bowditch and Cash double up

THE Winners of this year's Bridport Tennis Club Combined Doubles Tournament are Nat Bowditch for the juniors and Alan Cash for the adults.

After a very intense final of eight games in which the players changed partners halfway through, Bowditch was a clear 6-2 winner over Cameron Love, whilst Cash and Robbie Hayter were locked at 4 games each.

It then took two tie breaks to decide the outcome with Cash winning both with each junior, the first by just 7-6 and the second 7-3.

Earlier stages had seen five pairs competing in this club tournament which gives the juniors a chance to team up and pitch their skills with the adults.

Love had played particularly well to qualify for the final with some notable wins on the way. For Bowditch and Cash it was the second year in a row that they have taken first place.

Lyme lads out of county cup

AN 8-1 home defeat by a powerful Branksome outfit saw Lyme Regis U10s crash out of the Dorset County cup.

It was 3-0 at half-time and, although Daley Holmes pulled one back at 4-1, the Seaside's were never really in with a shout and the visitors struck three times late-on.

Beaminster celebrate despite difficult season

BEAMINSTER Cricket Club put the disappointments of the season behind them when more than 40 players, partners and guests attended the club's annual dinner and awards ceremony recently at the Red Lion Inn, Beaminster.

Club president Brian Newbery, whose association with the club goes back for more than 50 years, praised the spirit within the town's teams and thanked all associated with the club for their efforts over the season, before presenting the awards.

NEWLY formed Shipton C were unable to dent the Division 2 promotion prospects of their local rivals who were strong in all positions.

Colin Davis and debutant Daniel Trim played some fine rallies but failed to pick up a point against superior opponents. Eddy Buck had more success, picking up eight points and losing only to Bruce Beale who came back from two down to eventually win 3-2 and claim his maximum nine points. Jim Saunders took seven points and Ron Tucknott six before Saunders and Beale rounded off a fine night for the B team, who were runners-up last season with a straight 3-0 win over Buck and Davis.

GOLF
ROUND-UP

LYME REGIS

WITH weather conditions dominating the weekend and perhaps the events at Celtic Manor and the Ryder Cup proving a distraction, a depleted field took to the fairways for the Monthly Junior stableford held on Saturday 2nd October.

As if to reward those brave enough to participate the weather eased somewhat allowing some high scores to be posted, and despite a creditable 35 points from G. Seed and 37 from L. Cottam they were eventually pushed into 2nd and 3rd places respectively when G. Yorke came home with the winning score of 38.

The men's monthly medal was cancelled on the Sunday but mention should be given the Hardy "A" team who had earlier clinched promotion to Division 2 by beating Ashley Wood 5 1/2 to 2 1/2. Although Fernwood finished on the same number of points Lyme Regis were promoted due to the number of actual matches won.

Wet Wessex sees Vikings raid off

WEYMOUTH Weyline Wildcats final 2010 track action at the Wessex Stadium as a team against Team Viking had to be cancelled after the BSPA ruled that the meeting could not take place due to the restaging of the National League Fours competition at Rye House Speedway last Sunday.

The meeting was originally arranged for Friday evening but heavy rain forced the postponement for 24 hours.

The International challenge against the Team Viking side was to be slotted into the Wildcats race night off but with the Vikings due to return home shortly they are unable to ride this week.

Powerstock Junior Cricket awards

POWERSTOCK Junior Cricket Club held their AGM and awards evening at Powerstock Hut recently.

Chairman, Steve Hibbs recorded another good year, having entered two age groups in the West Dorset league this summer. The U11s and U13s both came mid-table after fielding relatively young sides in both age groups and hope to build on this success next year.

Winter training indoors at The Sir John Colfox School hall has already commenced in preparation of the 2011 season and indeed for the forthcoming indoor 6-a-side winter league where they will enter U12 and U14 teams.

Powerstock juniors also represented both county and district sides this summer. Toby Hibbs played for Dorset B and West Dorset district; Oliver Lee, Ryan White, Charlie Parkman and Frank Baxter took part in West Dorset district games.

Last year's U15s members Oliver Hibbs and Alex Lee have played for the Powerstock adults team in some of their friendly Sunday games as has U13 member Oliver Lee.

Trophies were presented to the U11s: Charlie Parkman, (Player's Player); Charlie Parkman (captain) and James Millar (Most Improved). U13s: Fergus Hawthorn, (Player's player); Ollie Lee (captain) and Toby Brooks (Most Improved). Other club members received a medal for their commitment and achievements.

The children would like to thank committee members; Steve Hibbs, Kim White, Alison Stevens, Shaun Parkman, Ashley Chant, Simon Brooks and Antony Hughes for all their help and support throughout the season and also to the Mark Broad Memorial Fund for their very kind donation towards essential coaching and other expenses.

The club very much appreciate the use of the facilities at the Nettlescombe ground and special thanks go to the Weir Committee for all their support.

Fund raising this autumn includes parents and children helping at the Brickly Horse Jumping Event. Social activities during the year have included a parents and children friendly cricket game and picnic, two friendly games and teas with Winfrith Junior C.C. and a trip to Taunton to see Somerset playing against Hampshire. For more information about Powerstock Junior Cricket, please contact Steve Hibbs, Chairman Tel: 01308 485413.

Park tops county averages

NICK Park was far and away on top of the Dorset County Cricket team batting averages following their magnificent championship winning campaign writes Howard Larcombe.

The 25-year-old opening bat amassed 488 runs at an average of 40.66 from his 12 innings. Park's season was punctuated by three 50s and a superb 21-boundary 125 against Berkshire at Newbury back in June.

| Top Three  | Inns | Runs | Ave   |
|------------|------|------|-------|
| Nick Park  | 12   | 488  | 40.66 |
| Chris Park | 11   | 288  | 36.00 |
| Ed Denham  | 12   | 270  | 33.75 |

The bowling department was led by skipper Tom Hicks who claimed 27 victims at 17.55 with a best of 7 for 54 v Wales at Bournemouth.

However the impact of slow-left arm spinner Jack Leach should not be forgotten.

The 19-year-old from Taunton claimed a remarkable 20 wickets in two matches at a strike rate of a wicket every 32 balls.

Team officials are no doubt pleased to hear that Leach is keen to part a bigger part in the action next season.

| Top Three    | Overs | Wkts | Ave   |
|--------------|-------|------|-------|
| Jack Leach   | 102.3 | 20   | 11.30 |
| Tom Hicks    | 184.4 | 27   | 17.55 |
| Glyn Treagus | 49.1  | 9    | 17.55 |

BEES EXTRA

Senior named top Manager

BRIDPORT manager Trevor Senior has been named as the Toolstation Western League Division One Manager-of-the-Month for September following his side's explosive start to the season.

Having won their opening four fixtures in August, Senior's charges have won their three games in September, scoring 18 goals and conceding just five, and hold fourth place despite having played a number of games less than the rest of the teams.

They also recorded a stunning 2-1 victory at Buckland Athletic in the FA Vase.

The award is recognition for the best start Bridport have made in the Western League, and the hard work that Senior has done at the club since taking over from Ian Hutchinson in the summer of 2009.

Last season, his first, he guided the Bees to a very respectable tenth spot, and felt that the club had a good chance of promotion this year.

Congratulated on the award Senior said: "This is recognition for the whole club, not just me. Everyone at the club has worked really hard to achieve where we are today; management, players the coaching staff and all the backroom helpers, and I am pleased that we have been able to give our supporters something to cheer about.

"We restructured the management team in the summer and it has paid dividends, and needless to say I am really pleased with the support I have received from the others.

Mike Savage and Dougie Smith have been a great help to me personally, whilst Steve Crabb and Mark Lock, whilst they haven't had the results so far, have done a sterling job for the reserves. It's great also having a successful third team under Ian Pincombe and Jason Forbes."

As is often the case with any such awards, the team fails immediately after receiving the accolade. Fortunately for Senior and Bridport their 7-0 defeat by Odd Down was in the FA Cup and not the league!

Senior visits Somme in Reading FC's remembrance of their war dead

TREVOR Senior has been invited by Reading Football Club to take part in a radio and television programme remembering players that were killed fighting for their country in the First World War.

Seven professional footballers with the now npower Championship side were killed in the battle of the Somme in July 1916, one of the largest and bloodiest battles of the war which accounted for 420,000 British casualties.

Senior is the club's all-time leading goal scorer with 184 goals in 362 games in two spells with the club, a phenomenal record of one goal every two games.

The event is being recorded by Radio Berkshire to be included in an hour long programme to be broadcast in the future, whilst BBC South Today is also believed to be covering the event for a ten minute slot in a future Inside Out programme.

Trevor has been deliberately kept in the dark about details of the trip over three days this week, as he believes they want his immediate reaction to events on the day rather than him have time to prep the situation.

He will be travelling together with the current Reading manager Brian McDermott, former playing colleague and later joint manager of Reading, Mick Gooding, and Adrian Williams who was an apprentice when Senior was at the club.

He believes his involvement stems from the fact that one of those killed was Alan Foster, who scored a hat-trick in the 5-0 defeat of A C Milan when the club toured Italy in 1913, and was believed to have the potential to become one of the club's top goalscorers, and maybe could have been more successful than Senior, had he lived.

RUGBY ROUND-UP

WITH KEITH JENKIN

Gower's double sees Dorchester home

DORCHESTER 34 TROWBRIDGE 25
CONDITIONS were ideal for running rugby at Dorchester for the visit of the Southern Counties (South) front runners and the home side were wide with a penalty goal attempt before the game was a minute old, after their opponents were adjudged to have entered a ruck from the side on their own twenty two.

They took the lead immediately after however, although their try had a bit of good fortune about it. Trowbridge overthrew at a lineout near halfway and the ball fell to Mitchell. The number eight ran strongly before being checked on the twenty two. His off load found blind side flanker Gower and he scuttled over by the posts. Pryce kicked the conversion and Dorchester led 7-0.

The visitors' response was immediate. They went back upfield and kicked a penalty after Dorchester had not rolled away after the tackle on their twenty two.

After this burst of early scoring however, both sides settled and, although I felt that Trowbridge looked the likelier outfit at this stage, the scoreline remained unchanged at the end of the first quarter.

At this point Dorchester scored again, and again the scorer was Gower. He fastened on to a loose ball at the tail of a lineout on the twenty two, and weaved his way over by the posts. The kick was again successful, giving the home side a 14-3 lead after 25 minutes.

I had the feeling that Trowbridge lost their way a little during the second quarter, taking wrong options more often than not, and not really playing to their strength forward.

The home side scored again just before the break after they had run back a kick out of their opponents' defence. Rather ill advisedly, I thought, they chose the narrow side but they knew better than I, and an off load found Newsam and he got over halfway out.

Although the try remained unconverted, Dorchester were not done and the visitors' defence was found wanting just before the break, allowing Mitchell to again run strongly on the twenty two. He shrugged off some ineffectual tackles and crashed over for his second of the day that took the score to 24-3.

Defences certainly were not on top at this stage and the visitors threw themselves a lifeline with the final play of the half, taking advantage of some sloppy home defence in turn that allowed them to get over out wide, and moreover to run almost to the posts unchallenged. The try was converted and took the half-time score to 24-10.

Trowbridge started the second-half brightly, as they had the first. Their habit of taking wrong options continued however and one of their back three was caught in possession.

They did manage to recycle but were too expansive and Spensley intercepted a hurried pass on halfway and ran to the posts. Clifford's conversion kick was accurate and stretched the lead to 31-10.

Trowbridge then began to assert themselves through their pack and, with 25 minutes left, their scrum-half wriggled over halfway out after some concerted pressure by the eight.

They scored again a few minutes later. Their pack again set the position, driving almost to the Dorchester line before releasing for their winger to get over in the corner and to run almost to the posts before touching down.

Both tries remained unconverted and Dorchester, although they seemed to be under increasing pressure, kicked a long range penalty with some ten minutes left for play to take the score to 34-20.

Trowbridge kept attacking, although not particularly efficiently, until the last and, with a couple of minutes left, they got over out wide for an unconverted try that netted them a bonus point. They could not reduce the arrears further however for the whistle for no side sounded soon after.

It's rather difficult to sum this one up. Trowbridge were in the ascendancy during the first quarter, and certainly during the last, while the home side had their moments either side of the break. It was Dorchester however who took their scoring opportunities far better, and because of that fact, deserved to win.

Trowbridge however would have returned home ruing those spurned opportunities and feeling that they had, to an extent anyway, been architects of their own downfall.

It was not all sweetness and light for the Dorchester club on Saturday though, with their seconds going down 27-13 at Ellingham & Ringwood. Their thirds however notched yet another win, besting Bournemouth fourths 35-22 and they now top the Dorset & Wilts League Division Three (South) table.

SWANAGE & WAREHAM 2nd 0
WEYMOUTH 10

THIS was a hard fought, dour encounter, with Weymouth winning the territorial game hands down and with the difference between the sides being, in the end, rather more marked than the final scoreline suggests.

They took the lead with a try by number eight forward Julian Quick, who gathered and ran strongly from the visitors' twenty two before touching down. Lewendon added the extras and Weymouth led 7-0 at the halfway stage.

The second-half continued very much in the same vein as the first: aggressive, abrasive and with no quarter being asked or give, and with the home side's very handy pack of forwards being matched by the Weymouth eight, with scrum-half Gareth Iles snapping at their heels.

The Weymouth lead was increased on the hour via the boot of Lewendon who kicked a penalty to complete the scoring and to take his side to the win that they deserved.

WEYMOUTH 2nd 78
SWANAGE & WAREHAM 4th 7

THE Weymouth second string are certainly starting this season in division three as if they mean business, scoring no less than 12 tries on their way to a most comprehensive victory.

In fact, with the scoreline standing at 38-7 at the halfway stage, the bonus point win was secure well before the interval.

Tom Bell scored four tries for the home side. Will Quick and Lewis Allen notched a couple each and, with Anthony Cowburn, Robert Smith, Simon Comden, and Jake Clifford also crossing the whitewash, and Nathan Allen having a good day with the boot, converting nine from 12, Weymouth were well out of sight by the whistle for no side.

CORSHAM 69 BRIDPORT 0

IT is a fact that the fates will conspire against any one in adversity, and it certainly happened to Bridport on Saturday last. Injuries and non availability meant that they had to field a squad that included no less than 11 changes from the one that appeared the previous week and, apart from anything else, this meant that their cohesion was non-existent.

In fact they started well enough and enjoyed something of an edge during the first ten minutes before a converted try, scored after an interception, saw them fall behind.

Another score followed almost directly from the kick-off and then the flood gates opened, with the home side taking advantage of their opponents' frailties, especially out wide.

Corsham led 40-0 at the halfway stage, with Bridport failing to get any 'rub of the green' from the referee. In fact they suffered from no less than four sin binnings during the game, one of which lasted for almost 15 minutes, and at one stage they were reduced to 13 players.

Corsham continued to take full advantage, aided and abetted by several decisions that could well have gone the other way and, although they competed until the end, Bridport will not remember this game with overmuch affection.

When a club is forced into as many changes to its first side as Bridport was last weekend, the effect on its second side is even more cataclysmic.

The Bridport second side did manage to field a side to take on the Wheatheaf Cabin Crew and, although they held their own for much of the game, eventually had to give the visitors best and went down 19-42.

PREVIEW

HAVING bested top dogs Trowbridge, DORCHESTER now travel to basement side BRADFORD ON AVON on Saturday next, and they will certainly travel with confidence.

I have watched these opponents earlier this season and, while Bridport made them look rather worse than I felt they were on that occasion, I came away with the impression that they will struggle to compete effectively in the Southern Counties League this season.

Their subsequent results appear to confirm this and I take Dorchester to win at something of a canter.

WEYMOUTH, unbeaten thus far in the league, should take nothing for granted when they host OAKMEDIANS 2nd, for their opponents although lying below them in the division, certainly have a sensible record in the competition to date. I do think that the home unbeaten record will remain intact at 5pm on Saturday however.

After their trials and tribulations of Saturday last, BRIDPORT must surely be thinking that things can only get better.

They will certainly need to do so for, in DEVIZES, they face a side who are about the equals of Corsham, the side who bested them on Saturday last.

Hopefully they will have one or two pivotal players back from injury to rectify their deficiencies in the outside channels.

They do have home advantage, but will most certainly have to raise their performance by several notches if they are to compete effectively.

As to the second sides; Bridport seconds, struggling as they are, will certainly have their hands full at Puddletown, as will Dorchester seconds who travel to Fordingbridge.

Dorchester thirds however should continue their good start to the season by beating Oakmedians 3rd, and Weymouth seconds should their make it two from two when they travel to Blandford seconds.

West Dorset fightback to win

Beaminster Ladies Hockey
BEAMINSTER 1
SALISBURY 3

THREE second-half goals sunk Beaminster after a battling first half where they took the lead on the stroke of half-time through Julia May.

However a much more experienced and mobile Salisbury team deservedly took all three points in the second-half when Beaminster ran out of steam and ideas.

Beaminster welcomed back last year's player of the year Jackie Gape for her last game before going to university, and her energy gave the side an edge up front that was missing last week. It was also great to see Andrea Thomas back in the side after missing all last season with illness.

Gape should have given Beaminster a fourth minute lead when she broke through the visitors defence, but was thwarted by a great save by the advancing Salisbury keeper.

This was against the run of play as Salisbury started with great purpose and put the home rearguard under a lot of pressure.

They themselves missed a great opportunity on nine minutes when a Beaminster defender completely missed her clearance with a wild swipe at the ball, but the forward with an open goal cracked her shot against the post from just three yards out. They went close again soon after when a lifted shot just missed the far post.

It wasn't all one way and Beaminster were quick to break from defence on a few occasions and Salisbury were forced to concede short corners. It was following one of these that Beaminster struck right on the half-time whistle.

The visitors failed to clear their lines and eventually joint player of the match May swooped to sweep the ball home to give Beaminster the lead.

Salisbury came out with purpose in the second-half and they equalised on 44 minutes with a cross shot that just caught keeper Rachel Andrews off balance and found the left hand corner.

The hard working Emma Davies then set Freya Crawford up with a clever ball but once again the visiting keeper was on form to divert her shot wide of the post.

Beaminster strangely substituted Gape soon after and almost immediately Salisbury took the lead on 49 minutes.

The visitors' side, made up mainly of players in their 20s, had too much experience and energy in comparison to Beaminster's younger players and started to dictate the play, and there looked to be only one winner.

Despite good rearguard action from Ali

White and Jenny Clarke, they conceded again two minutes from time.

BEAMINSTER LADIES 2nd 2
CHARD 2nd 1

BEAMINSTER fielded four new young players in the team for the friendly against Chard. Ismay Byrne, Hannah Dale, Alex McStea and Charlotte Daniels, all Woodroffe school pupils, gave a good account of themselves, and settled into the team well.

The first-half was fairly even with some good attacks from Rachel Andrews, playing up front rather than her usual keeping role, combining well with Emma Drewery to put the pressure on the Chard keeper. However it was Chard who scored first slightly against the run of play.

Beaminster started the second-half brightly and soon capitalized with a goal from player of the match Andrews. Danni Donovan and Emma Davies worked tirelessly in midfield, the former making some vital tackles, and both feeding the forwards and wings with numerous through balls, which paid off when the winning goal was scored by 12-year-old Polly Davies, her first for the club, with a sweeping shot from a tight angle on the right.

Chard continued pressurising the Beaminster 'D', but with Ali White sweeping faultlessly, new keeper Ismay Byrne was able to cope without any problems.

Skipper Emma Davies was greatly encouraged by her side's performance and made special mention of the four new members playing their first match.

West Dorset Hockey Club
WEST DORSET 3
OTTERY CRICKETS 1

WEST Dorset kick started their season with a useful victory over a young, vibrant Ottery side.

One down at the break they fought back to score three after the interval to take the points.

Ottery were by far the better side in the first-half and should have been further ahead by half-time, but after strong words from skipper Simon Wakely, West Dorset came out in much better shape.

Dan Wyatt was moved up to lead the attack and put the hosts level, but only a great goal line clearance from keeper Mark Smith stopped the Crickets from taking the lead immediately afterwards.

Having survived the scare Gavin Brook- ing put West Dorset ahead with a cracking shot that gave the keeper no chance, before Alex Davies, who gets married this Saturday, signed off his bachelor days in style by adding a third.

Bees clock up magnificent seven

BRIDPORT 9 ELMORE 1
Toolstation Division One
Tuesday, Sept 28th - att: 76

BRIDPORT gave a breathtaking display as they continued their perfect start to the season with a 9-1 thumping of Elmore at St Mary's Field last Tuesday.

They raced into a 4-1 interval lead before slamming another five without response in the second-half as they moved up to second place in the Toolstation Western League Division One.

With cup matches filling the next two Saturday's, Senior was looking for his side to maintain their good start to the league campaign to ensure his side did not lose contact with the leaders, and they did that in style with their seventh consecutive victory.

The Bees beat the Devon side 2-1 in the reverse fixture in the second game of the season in mid-August with two second-half goals, but it took them only nine minutes this time to score when Matt Condliffe drove home the loose ball from an acute angle after Eagles keeper Laurie Martin failed to hold on to the ball as Jamie Symes carved his way through the visitors defence.

Ryan Dovell added the second three minutes later when he turned Adam Symes' driven cross beyond Martin.

Elmore knew they were in for a battering when Chris Clarke added the third with just 17 minutes gone; driving the ball just beyond Martin's despairing drive and inside the right hand post.

However against the run of play they were given a lift when skipper Steve Rowland flicked the ball over home custodian Sam Filkins, but Condliffe restored the three goal lead when he collected Dan Wise's precise pass and drove it into the bottom corner.

The Bees continued the onslaught in the second-half and Jamie Symes made it five on 56 minutes when he hooked home his shot from Darren Watt's cut back, before Watt's got his name on the score sheet just after the hour after being set up by Dovell.

Wise exquisitely lobbed the seventh from 25-yards, Matt Moors snapped up a loose ball following a goalmouth scramble, before Dovell completed

Bees misery continues

BRIDPORT RES 1 HOLT UTD 2
BRIDPORT Reserves went down to their fourth consecutive leagues defeat as they failed to take advantage of playing against ten men for over half of their Magna Dorset Premier League match against Holt United on Saturday.

The Bees who have one only one of their last seven matches after winning their opening two fixtures succumbed to two second half goals and despite Ashley Clarke pulling one back with three minutes left they could not force an equaliser.

Joint manager Steve Crabb was mystified by his sides showing. "I'm not really disappointed about how the lads played, but playing against ten men for 55 minutes you would expect us to win. They actually created more chances than us in the second half. Whether the lads thought it should be easy against ten men and mentally switched off I don't know, but to be fair to them they did play well after the guy was sent off, and I wasn't surprised when they scored."

The first half was fairly even and the only real incident of note was the sending off; a straight red card for a Holt played stamping on Tristan Gale.

The visitors took the lead 20 minutes from the end when their left winger beat two defenders down the touchline before rounding keeper Lee Cleal to slot home. They doubled their advantage when the Bridport defence stopped after one of their players was fouled right in front of the linesman. He ignored what the home side considered a blatant foul and a Holt player ran through to beat the Cleal.

Ash Clarke headed home Gale's cross to give Bridport hope but it was too little too late.

"I think losing is becoming a habit and we need to snap out of it. Apart from Westlands we have not been badly beaten. We have been competitive and a little unlucky not to have taken something from some of the games."

"We have a break from the league this Saturday when we play Kingston Lacy in the Dorset Senior Trophy. Whilst it will be tough as they will see it as a chance to be a giant killer, perhaps we can use it as a springboard to better things."

Thirds battle back

BRIDPORT THIRDS 2
STURMINSTER MARSHL RES 2
BRIDPORT Thirds battled back from a two goal halftime deficit to secure a draw with a last gasp equaliser from sub Ali Kamara in this Dorset Division Two match.

It's the first points the Bees have dropped this season after four wins to open their campaign, and it was by far their toughest game.

Sturminster won the league last season and started the game at a high pace forcing a number of errors from the young Bees, and after five minutes James Bird conceded a free kick on the edge of the area.

Richie Davies who had a superb first-half for the visitors, constantly opening up the home defence with his speed down the right, fired the ball into the Bridport wall. His shot from the rebound squirmed through the line of defenders where the unmarked Ercan Mete fired high into the net beyond the unprotected Lee Cuff from close range.

Bridport continued to huff and puff against fairly experienced opponents and went further behind on the half-hour when referee Bob Brittain allowed Stur to take a quick free-kick on the edge of the box. Cuff was still setting up his wall when Davies just fired the ball into the net. Despite protests from the Bridport side, the referee allowed the goal to stand.

Joint managers Ian Pincombe and Jason Forbes gave their side a stern lecture at the break and introduced Jamie Fry into the middle of the back four for the second half. Fry who has been out for 14 weeks with a hand injury was making his return to competitive football, and not only stiffened up the defence, but his encouragement and experience stirred his side into a much better performance.

It was Fry that also got the Bees back in the game after 55 minutes producing a superb strike from 20 yards that screamed into the top corner of the net.

This gave the Bees the momentum they were looking for and they took control, and thought they had drawn level when Colin Paull went through to beat the keeper. There was no signal from the Stur linesman and no whistle from the ref, but as Paull celebrated, Mr Brittain changed his mind claiming he was offside.

Despite Bridport's superiority it looked as if they were heading for their first defeat of the season before Kamara popped up with two minutes left to score from 12 yards.

Pincombe said after the match: "Sturminster Marshall are a good side, the best we have played so far this season. We were very poor in the first-half and they bossed the game and deserved their lead, but we were the better team after the break and deserved a point."

Away from home we have been up for it from the start, but at home we have been slow out of the blocks, but Jamie made a big difference when he came on and helped the younger players."

Sherborne make approach for Symes

SHERBORNE Town have given Bridport seven-days notice of approach for Jamie Symes.

Manager Trevor Senior told View Sport that he had given the midtable Toolstation Western League Premier club permission to talk to Symes but was confident that he would stay at St Mary's Field.

"Jamie is a great prospect, and playing very well at the moment, but with all due respect to Sherborne, he has rejected rejoining Dorchester Town and furthering his possible career with Blackpool to concentrate on playing with Bridport."

"He obviously has a great future but I think and believe that he wants to further his education here at Bridport for this season at least."

Seventeen-year-old Jamie has already scored ten goals this season for the Bees.

Academy pledges support to 'Heroes Welcome'

THE Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy (WPNSA) will be pledging their support to the Armed Forces by introducing a 10% 'Heroes Welcome' discount on selected services for all service personnel commencing immediately.

The discount covers day membership of WPNSA and all purchases in the on-site cafeteria. In addition a number of on-site partners including SailLaser, The Official Test Centre, Quay Therapy and Ocean Motion Physiotherapy are also offering the same discount.

The Heroes Welcome scheme all started in Scarborough when a few local businesses, now over 500 strong and growing, grouped together in order to offer visiting service personnel special discounts. The scheme, which has now taken off across England and Scotland, could not be simpler; British Armed Forces Service Men and Women on production of an identification card will be able to claim a discount at the Academy. The initiative aims to raise awareness of and support for the Armed Forces community and highlight the outstanding contribution they make to this country.

The discounts mean that members of the Armed Forces will be able to benefit from reduced rates for a range of activities such as sailing and windsurfing through to treatments such as sports massage or physiotherapy. The Academy's cafeteria is open every day and offers a selection of hot meals, drinks and snacks making it the perfect place to refuel after a morning on the water or to simply relax and enjoy the breathtaking views across the bay.

John Tweed, Chief Executive at the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy, commented, "We have the utmost respect for the Armed Forces community and we are extremely grateful for the work our servicemen and women perform for the people of the UK. We've introduced the discount to acknowledge the massive contribution that they make every day both at home and overseas."

INSIDE: The most informed Perry Street League round-up

County cup remains elusive

LYME Regis Reserves' hopes of emulating their 1999-2000 counterparts, Trevor Finnigan, Greg Emmett, Nick Bowditch et al, in lifting the Dorset Junior cup were scuppered as they were sunk 2-0 at Piddlehinton United.

The Seasiders had their chances as they enjoyed the better of the first-half but paid the penalty by conceding twice in the last half-hour. Veteran ex-Bridport midfielder Derek Walkey had his debut for Lyme cut short by an achilles injury in the 20th minute.

BY HOWARD LARCOMBE

Middle Chinnock. The bustling 23-year-old striker was likened to Ellis Hoole who netted more than 500 times in an illustrious local-football career - praise indeed!

Unfortunately, Lewis, a soldier from Warminster, will only be available on a monthly basis - but Lyme hope this may improve.

The Seasiders were always in control on Saturday and cruised home with goals from Julien Simier, Adam Caddy, Jason Hawker and Joe Bond.

Beaminsters await in big local derby

On Saturday, Lyme travel to take on old foes Beaminsters for what is always a feisty clash. The match was originally planned for the Davey Fort but PSL officials have refused to sanction Seasiders' plans to utilise the changing facilities at Uplyme Cricket club whilst work continues on the Davey Fort clubhouse.

Lyme Regis Bantams crashed out of the John Fowler cup - beaten 2-1 by Misterton Reserves at Venlake. This Saturday the Bantams travel to Wingham United Reserves whilst the Reserves are in Division One cup quarter-final action at Thorncombe - no doubt looking for vengeance following a 5-2 defeat in the league at Horseshoe Lane just two weeks ago.

With the Ilminster Rec ground in borderline condition and both sides struggling to field a team Chardmouth's planned trip to face Ilminster Colts was postponed. The Robins will try again at Perry Street Reserves on Saturday.

Uplyme's unbeaten start to the season ended in a 3-2 defeat at Dowlish & Donyatt. The Swallows will be confident of turning things around when they entertain struggling Chard Rangers at Venlake.
